MARKET ACT IN COURT ON AUGUST 16

I. W. de B. Farris Appears For
B.C. Attorney-General's Department

Matter in Court as Appeal on Writ of Habeas Corpus
By Chinese

Vancouver, Aug. 9.—Constitutionality of the British Columbia Produce Marketing Act will be argued in the Supreme Court of British Columbia on August 16.

In the meantime the Deputy Minister of Justice of Canada has been notified by J. W. de B. Farris, K.C., who is appearing for the Provincial Attorney-General, of the point involved and has been requested to state whether the Federal Government is to be represented on the argument.

The matter, by arrangement between counsel, comes before the court again as an appeal by writ of habeas corpus by Chung Chue, Delta Chinese farmer.

A nominal fine of $10 was imposed yesterday in New Westminster by Magistrate Harry G. Johnston on the Oriental potato grower after his counsel, H. S. Wood, K.C., had admitted the facts contained in the charge.

The charge was marketing potatoes without the consent of the Mainland Potato Committee of Direction.

POINT TO BE DECIDED
The only point in the case, according to counsel, is whether the Produce Marketing Act is ultra vires of the Legislature on the ground that it encroaches on Parliament's jurisdiction in the matter of trade and commerce.

Mr. Justice Murphy has allowed Chung Chue out on his own recognizance until the question has been determined.

R. L. Reid, K.C., appears for the Mainland Potato Committee of Direction.

Sir James Agg Gardiner, Eighty-one, Dies in London; Made Few Speeches

London, Aug. 9.—Sir James T. Agg Gardiner, who was noted for his retiring nature and silence in the House of Commons and who this year made his first speech in twenty-five years, was found dead in a bedroom in the Carlton Club Annex today. Death was believed to have been due to heart failure. Sir James was in his eighty-second year. He was a member of Cheltenham.

Sir James was best known to his fellow members of Parliament as chairman of the Kitchen Committee, which is responsible for the meals served in what is sometimes called the finest club in Europe. His colleagues therefore called him "Minister of the Interior."

Sir James was the oldest member of Parliament from the point of age and was very popular. He was first elected more than fifty-four years ago. There were several gaps in his membership, however, so he was not "the Father of the House of Commons," which distinction is held by Rt. Hon. T. P. O'Connor.

B.C. CITIES ON IMPROVED BASIS BAIRD REPORTS

Municipalities Show Big Gain in Assets; Tax Arrears Cut
Total Municipal Population Is Estimated at 449,209

British Columbia municipalities are in a greatly-improved financial condition over their position in previous years, according to the annual report of Robert Baird, Inspector of Municipalities, released at the Parliament Buildings today. The report, which contains figures in exhaustive detail, sums up these facts as follows:

"The figures show a very satisfactory state of affairs; a comparatively small increase in liabilities; a substantial increase in the value of assessable improvements; a further improvement in the condition of sinking funds, and a reduction in the amount of taxes outstanding."

POPULATION ESTIMATE
Total population of cities is estimated in the report at 265,146; districts, municipalities, 176,774; and villages, 4,289. This is a grand total of 449,209, or probably about two-thirds of the entire provincial population.

"The increase of slightly over $4,500,000 in the debt of the municipalities is only a partial indication of the development which is taking place throughout the Province and of the additional services of various kinds offered to the public," Mr. Baird adds.

SAANICH TRUSTEES
PLAN TO APPOINT
SCHOOLS INSPECTOR

Appointment of a municipal inspector of schools by Saanich was last night endorsed by the Saanich School Board. Applications for the position will be called forthwith.

Trustee Jeanne believed Saanich could engage the full time of a schools inspector, but Chairman Hobbs considered that a half-time appointee might be possible.

POWER RATES ARE IN DISPUTE

While Board Inquires Company Withdraws Rates in Part of West Kootenay

Vancouver, Aug. 9.—After occupying several sessions of a board of investigation appointed under the Water Act, a year-old dispute between the West Kootenay Power and Light Company Limited, on the one hand, and the city of Grand Forks and the Granby Consolidated Mining, Smelting and Power Company Limited on the other, has been further complicated by a notice which has been filed with J. E. Lane, chairman of the board.

The notice, which will be considered August 15, when the board resumes its hearings in the office of Provincial Comptroller of Water Rights at Victoria, is by the West Kootenay Power and Light Company Limited. In effect it states the company withdraws its schedule of rates for electricity supplied outside of the area within fifty miles of Roseland in the district of West Kootenay.

TOLLS INVESTIGATED
In the meantime, the board has been inquiring into the tolls charged and to be charged by the power company to Grand Forks and the Granby Company.

When the board resumes its sittings the question will be raised whether the power company can withdraw its schedule of rates, whether the board can compel the power company to divulge certain information relative to its operations, and whether the board can alter the schedule of rates applicable outside the fifty-mile radius from Roseland.

Murder of Croat Peasant Leader Makes Future of Triune Kingdom Uncertain

Vienna, Aug. 9.—The death of Stefan Raditch, fiery Croatian peasant leader, as a result of a shooting affray in the Yugoslavian Chamber of Deputies at Belgrade, is causing deep anxiety in Europe as well as Yugoslavia.

The belief was held in some quarters today that the situation contained at least the possibility of civil war in Yugoslavia unless strong outside influences were exerted.

TROOPS IN ZAGREB
Troops were parading today through the streets of Zagreb, where Raditch died last night at the age of fifty-five years. Police also appeared in strong force and had places of demonstration closed.

There was an uneasy feeling today that demonstrations would occur. These, it was feared, might lead to greater disturbances, in view of the intense resentment of the Croats against the Yugoslav Government party, which they hold responsible for the shooting.

AGREEMENT UNLIKELY
That such disorders might not long remain local was the fear that was causing deep anxiety elsewhere than in Yugoslavia. The bitterness of the Croats toward what they regard as Serbian domination is well known.

The prospect of a peaceful reconciliation seems hopeless at present, especially since a parliamentary commission has voted in favor of relieving the Serbs from the fact of bitter Croat opposition. The convention permits Italians to own land along the Dalmatian coastal plain.

LEADERS TO MEET
M. Prebitchevitch, leader of the Peasants Union, announced the death of Raditch, immediately issued a summons for the executives of the party to meet on Saturday.

The fire that broke out between the elements which go to make up the Kingdom of the Serbs, Croats and Slovenes, was fired with the shooting of Raditch on June 30. Punyas, Raditch, a Radical (Government) deputy, infuriated at frequent interruptions, drew a pistol and fired six shots into a group of Croats. Raditch's nephew, Paul, and another deputy were killed, and four others, including Raditch, were wounded.

Unknown Men Kill Hugh Mc-
Loon, Figure in World of Sports

Philadelphia, April 9.—Hugh McLoon, twenty-nine, former mascot of the Athletics baseball team, was killed today by a group of "incubitably" men, who opened fire on them from a closed automobile and then sped away.

McLoon, in company with William Meister, twenty-one, and Joseph Pries, twenty-two, had walked a block from a saloon operated by McLoon in the downtown section of Philadelphia when they were attacked. Meister was seriously wounded and Pries was shot in the leg.

A pistol found lying on the sidewalk where the men fell indicated one of them had attempted to return the fire. McLoon's hunched figure was well known here because of his activities in the boxing world, he having officiated in minor capacities at numerous fights.

Dr. King promised the delegation he would take up this matter on his return to Ottawa. He is in possession of reports which have been submitted and also the resolutions of the Harbor Board favoring the employment of an independent engineer to give an opinion on the bridge.

FINAL COUNT STARTS TO-DAY

Returning Officers in B.C.
Commence Tally of Absentee Ballots

The final count of ballots cast in the recent provincial election commenced all over British Columbia today, with the prospect of being completed some time next week.

In Victoria A. D. Macnair, returning officer, expected to finish a tabulation of ordinary ballots some time this afternoon, after which he will begin to count absentee votes, estimated to total about 1,000. It will be some time tomorrow before the absentee count is completed here, and in Vancouver it may take four or five days.

Successful candidates will become members of the Legislature as soon as they are declared elected by returning officers.

In some places candidates have asked for recounts of ordinary ballots, but in Victoria and most other ridings only the absentee ballots will be counted now.

RIVER BRIDGE TRAGEDY SCENE

Man Slowly Drowned; Unable to Release Foot, Caught in Piles

Philadelphia, Aug. 9.—Held by a wedged foot, John Ryan, a bridge tender, was slowly drowned yesterday in the rising tide of the Delaware River. Ryan was tender on a drawbridge over Frankford Creek near the point at which it empties into the Delaware. He went beneath the bridge at low tide to grease the mechanism, exposed by the receding water. He slipped and his foot became wedged between two piles.

For four hours Ryan struggled to free himself and shouted for help as the tide lapped steadily higher on him. He one heard his cries until the water was to his neck and he was exhausted from his struggles. Men who responded at last were unable to extricate him and a hurry call was sent for a police patrol boat.

When the boat arrived the water had closed over the bridge tender.

LORD BALFOUR BACK IN RUSH OF PUBLIC LIFE

Eminent Statesman Cheered When He Appears at Royal Society of Arts

Reuter's Special to The Victoria Times

London (By Mail).—Lord Balfour, owing to ill-health, has been absent from public meetings for many years, and he was most warmly cheered when he entered the Royal Society of Arts to take the chair at the annual meeting of that young society of which he is the president, the British Institute of Philosophical Studies. The afternoon was oppressively hot, but Lord Balfour, using only the refreshment of pencilled notes scribbled on an envelope, spoke for a full half-hour on a most scholarly theme—the issues of perception and induction. He found a text in a foreword contributed to the annual report by Professor Hobhouse, but he confessed that it was no new text, for he had used it himself, at least in part, in his own first contribution to philosophical discussion, nearly fifty years ago. Lord Balfour does not think that the great changes wrought by new knowledge of science have lessened the difficulties he wrestled with in "A Defence of Philosophic Doubt." Rather does he incline to the view that those difficulties have increased, and that the need for the work of the Institute, begun only three years ago, will tend to increase. He pictured the day far off when it might be established that science alone is the only way to truth, and though he recommended that whenever science and common sense are "at issue" the wise man should submit to science, he stoutly maintained that beyond the results of observation and experiment there are truths which cannot be solved except by an appeal to faith.

Metichosin

Metichosin, Aug. 9.—Miss Norah Penton of Brandon, Man., and Miss Peggy Higgs of Albert Head are visiting Mrs. A. D. Ellwood.

Mrs. A. D. Ellwood and her daughter, Beth, are leaving on Thursday for Vancouver, where the latter will visit her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell. On Friday Mrs. Ellwood will be joined by Mrs. C. Mrs. Brown plans to return to Vancouver, where she will remain for a week. Mrs. Ellwood will travel as far East as Winnipeg, visiting friends and relatives at Regina and three places en route.

Miss C. Bertrand visited many friends here last Sunday.

Dr. C. P. Brown of the Quarantine Station entertained the Metichosin Tennis Club at William Head on Monday in honor of Rev. F. Comley of Alert Bay, formerly vicar of Metichosin, who is spending a short vacation as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. F. F. Higgs of Albert Head.

PARK ANIMALS ARE FEARLESS

Wild life conservation measures adopted and enforced in the National Parks of Canada have resulted in the wild creatures losing much of their fear of man. It is no uncommon occurrence to encounter wild-deer on the streets of Banff townsite, in Rocky Mountain Park, Alberta, while Rocky Mountain sheep graze alongside certain sections of the park highways, undisturbed by the passing motor traffic.

CITY ASKED TO PAY SUM ON ELEVATOR

Final Installment Preceding Completion of Grain Terminal is Authorized

Expenditures upon construction of the million-bushel grain elevator at Ogden Point docks totaled $261,535.88 up to July 31, C. D. Howe and Company have advised the City Council.

Payment of $64,108.01 on progress estimates for July is recommended, this being the last payment the city will make to Smith Brothers and Wilson, the contractors, until the work is completed and accepted.

The city's holdback on the $500,000 realized, from bond sales is $75,000, payment by the city of $64,108.01, bringing the total advanced up to $425,000.

The Panama Pacific Grain Terminals Limited has contributed $32,297 towards the expenditures already made, and the holdback on the contract with Smith Brothers and Wilson now aggregates $64,238.88.

All further construction costs involved in completion of the elevator must be financed by the grain company, which must also provide the difference of $9,238 between the amount now due the contractors and the $75,000 to be paid by the city upon completion of the work. The progress estimate for July shows that the total expended in that month was $68,005, of which $19,778 was for payroll.

Jewels Should Reflect Your Personality

"Buy your jewels for your personality, not your costume. Wear stones of the size and color that accentuate your good points and mitigate your bad ones, regardless of the mode of the moment."

This advice came from Harriet Keith Forbes, woman jeweler-designer who.

among other things, designed a necklace for Mrs. Coolidge last year of fine hand-wrought silverwork, with a gorgeously clear rock crystal ball pendant. "Have you fine eyes?" she asked the most of them by wearing large oval beads of slightly lighter hue," she suggested. "Is your complexion a trifle sallow? Then wear green stones—emeralds, jade, peridot. Are you a demure person? Then don't wear large dazzling ornaments that obliterate you completely."

She laid down certain rules to follow in jewel-choice:

"Only a pointed chin can stand the firm, hard clasp of a choker.
"Long pendant earrings require a long jaw.
"Very white pearls are trying to all but the fairest skin.
"Aquamarines are a wise choice for silver blondes; amber and yellow topaz for hazel eyes and red hair; turquoise for black hair and blue eyes; rubies for golden hair and skin; amethyst, coral, rose quartz and crystal for nearly everybody, but their mellow tints are especially flattering to mature years.
"The idea that black and white is an appropriate combination for 'elderly' women is all wrong. White is distracting to a faded skin, and black brings out the lines in the face. Color will do much for them, if carefully picked."

Education—An A.B. Isn't the Answer

By OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON
About this college question again. Every time it sticks its head out of the ground we hit it, or used to, until we discovered that the more we banged at it the healthier it grew. And now it is not sticking out one head, but hundreds. That much is settled. There is to be college.

The great public accepts that. But if some of the students with whom I happen to have discussed the matter recently are representative of the great mass of collegians who have boarded trains in the last week or two for their various centres of learning, it seems that not half of them know just exactly why they are going or for what they are going. student, "they're just afraid they'll be sorry later if they stop."

I wonder if I may venture a suggestion to colleges and universities. It may fall to earth where someone may pick it up and make use of it. I am too inarticulate on the subject to know how, when, or where to begin revamping the system myself.

A man takes a boy to college. The boy is duly entered, his tuition paid, and the parent drives off. Now the boy doesn't know, and the parent doesn't know, just why the boy is there—what he intends to study or for what work he is to prepare. The boy can't be blamed, for no one has told him; he is too young to have a decided plan of his own. His father doesn't know, because he has never been to college. He has no precise idea of what the boy may learn there.

It seems to me that a lot of it is blind groping. The worst of it is the boy wants to know and the father wants to know, but just how are they to find out? There seems to be little aid in shaping the boy's destiny.

Why can't colleges and universities establish centres where parents go beforehand and be enlightened in plain English as to what their children can get if they spend $4,000 on their training? Catalogues that talk in units and credits and academic terms don't mean a thing more to them than the Koran. Even an A.B. at the end of four years isn't the answer.

"They say," remarked the spinster boarder, "that the woman who hesitates is lost."

"Lost is not the proper word for it," growled the fussy old bachelor at the pedal extremity of the table. "She's extinct!"

"It's Better!" Says Mrs. Mackenzie of Toronto

"My grocer praised Rinso, so I thought I'd try a package and see if it was as good as he said. It's better! Rinso makes such rich, safe suds that when I take the clothes out of the wash they're whiter and newer-looking than ever. Even the most soiled pieces become spotted with only a tiny bit of rubbing. No wonder I have the clothes on the line so early now! Rinso is great for cleaning dishes, floors and sinks, too! No wonder I'm getting all my friends to use it!"

MRS. F. R. MACKENZIE

147 Sherwood Avenue, Toronto.

Science gives you a whiter wash—and saves you hours of hard work as well

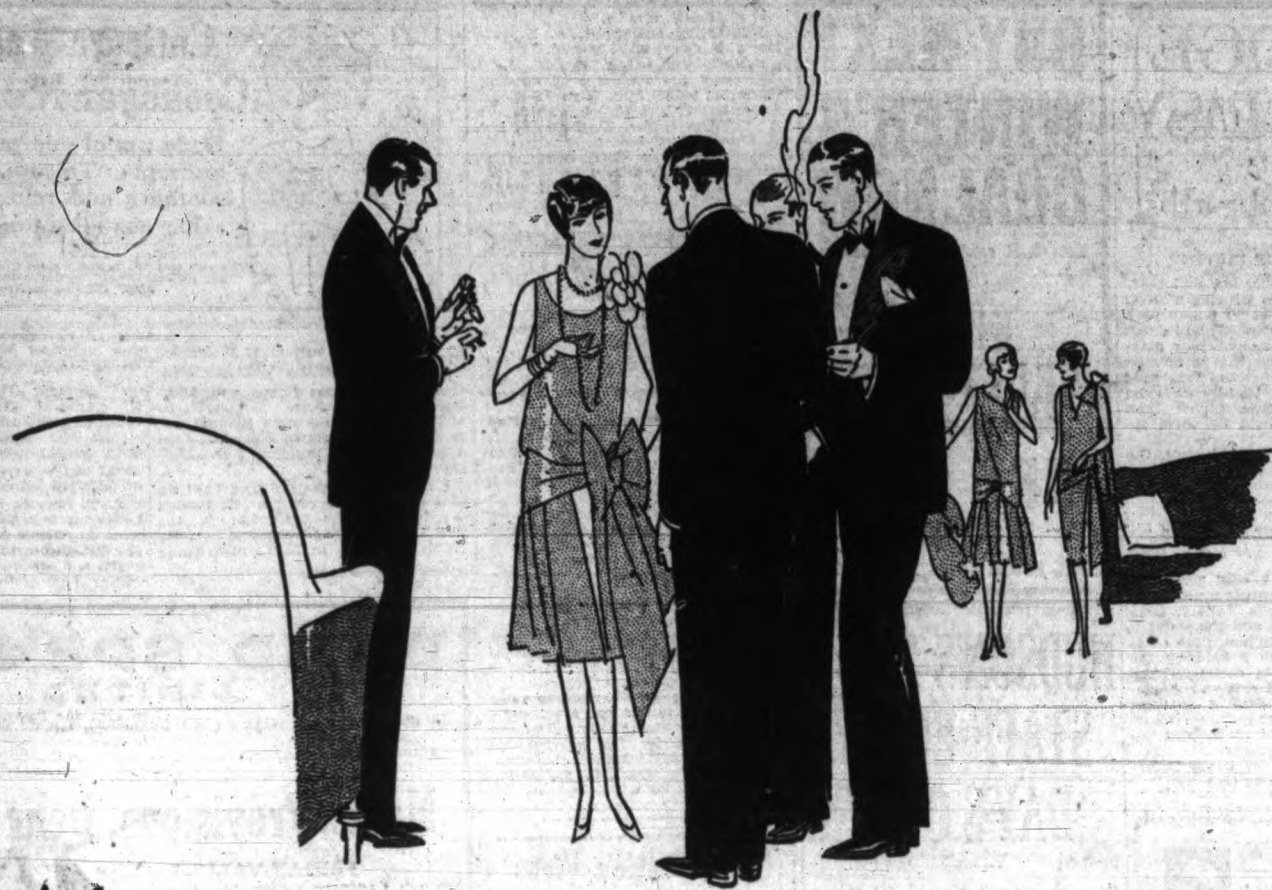

WHEN Science said, "Here, in Rinso, is a way to make clothes white with no boiling and little or no rubbing," women were skeptical. It seemed too good to be true. But once they tried Rinso they joyfully agreed that science was right. Rinso brought them a glad freedom from wash day toiling and gave them clean, white, fragrantly-fresh clothes such as every woman loves.

Rinso makes rich suds which soak out the dirt and grime. No boiling, just a gentle rub here and there and clothes are whiter than scrubbing can make them. Hours are saved, clothes last longer, work is made lighter.

Science is waiting in every package of Rinso to give you the surest wash day help the world has ever known.

Harvest Workers Must Pass Tests

London, Aug. 9.—While there seems little doubt 10,000 British men will be secured for the Canadian harvest fields, still a considerable proportion of the applicants are being rejected. The main reason for rejection is physical condition, all "recruits" having to undergo medical examination. Conditions at the centres where applicants are received somewhat resemble recruiting in the early days of the World War. The harvesters must conform, in fact, to the highest army physical standard. Moving picture films of life in Canada are shown in some mining districts to interest audiences. Ottawa, Aug. 9.—Yesterday 2,000 men had been accepted in connection with the project of the British Government to send harvesters to Canada. A large number are from Scotland and Northern England. On advice from the Canadian Government, only the strongest men are being chosen in view of the nature of the work.

Farrow, the mail clerk who recently identified one of the men charged with robbing the Canadian National mail car on the night of June 19 at the Union Station, is being furnished police protection, it being feared accomplices of the alleged robber may try to do him harm. U.S. WATERWAY DEBATE GROWS

New York, Aug. 9.—Edward C. Carrington, chairman of the Great Lakes-Hudson Waterway Association, has telegraphed Governor Al. Smith, Democratic candidate for the Presidency of the United States, asking him to debate the waterway question with Herbert Hoover, Republican candidate for the Presidency. "Mr. Hoover is unquestionably supporting the St. Lawrence Waterway, which you have characterized as visionary, absurd and impracticable," Carrington said in his wire. "Will you debate this with Mr. Hoover, or Henry J. Allen at Madison Square Garden, New York, or at the Coliseum, Chicago, under the auspices of our association?"

Premier Baldwin At Eisteddfod

Treorchy, Wales, Aug. 9.—Premier Stanley Baldwin yesterday wrestled with the Welsh language when he acted as president of the day at the National Eisteddfod. He was given a great ovation by the crowd of 20,000 which heard him, especially when he brought in three Welsh words with some success. He wound up triumphantly by pronouncing in Welsh the sentiment, "Long Life to the Welsh Language." In his address, Mr. Baldwin paid tribute to ex-Premier Lloyd George as "the greatest orator in Great Britain," and Mr. H. J. H. Thomas, "whose resourcefulness and pertinacity represent the highest qualities of the Welsh race."

MANY HONORED HEROES' MEMORY

Thousands of British World War Veterans Yesterday Shared in Ypres Events

Ypres, Belgium, Aug. 9.—With tears for regret, flowers for remembrance and hymns for praise of sacrifice and example, 16,000 British veterans and their wives and other women relatives yesterday held a memorial service here for the host of their comrades who died in Flanders Fields in the World War. "O Valiant Hearts" sang the pilgrims—as many of them as could make their voices overcome their sobs. Other hymns and old war-time songs were attempted, but hearts were too full of emotion and memories of the gallant dead were too poignant and the singing was not much in volume.

PEACE DESIRE

"Was it worth while?" asked the Archbishop of York, who is to become Archbishop of Canterbury and Primate of the Church of England this Fall, in addressing the throng. He answered his own question thus: "Yes, a thousand times yes. Through the sufferings and sacrifices of the war there has been won, as never before in human history, a settled will to seek peace and ensure it."

The service was held under the shadow of Menin Gate. The pilgrims gathered around that massive monument to the heroism of the soldiers of the British Empire, coming by train, automobile or on foot along the familiar roads of the great battlefields.

They were under the leadership of the Prince of Wales and Admiral Earl Jellicoe, head of the British Legion, and their numbers included hundreds of men who were maimed in conflicts in and around this town. The Count of Flanders, son of King Albert of Belgium, stood at the side of the Prince and behind them were Marshal Petain, Gen. Weygand and Gen. Gouraud, Countess Raig, widow of the beloved British Commander-in-Chief, the British Ambassador to Belgium, the Burgomaster of Ypres and the prefect of Lille.

LONG PROCESSION

After the service at the gate, the pilgrims marched in a long procession through the Grand Place, just outside of the ruins of historic Cloth Hall. There the Prince of Wales and the Count of Flanders mounted a dais draped in scarlet and white and stood bareheaded in the bright sunshine. A detachment of Belgian infantry with bands surrounded the dais as a guard of honor.

The French generals, the British officials and clergy stood behind the prince. Then the procession of pilgrims marched past and while the Prince of Wales took their salute, the veterans gave vent to their emotions in great cheering for him and the Belgian prince.

It took the procession an hour and twenty minutes to pass in review. When the long ovation was ended, the Prince of Wales inspected the local headquarters of the Salvation Army and the Y.M.C.A. and then left by motor for Boulogne, whence he departed for London.

The British veterans included 8,000 men and 5,000 women who served in various capacities during the years of the World War.

AEROPLANE CRASH KILLS TWO MEN

Paris, Aug. 9.—Maurice Drouhin, noted French pilot, who was injured in the crash of his tri-motored plane, The Rainbow, at the Orly Airfield yesterday, died at 2:15 this morning.

Mechanic Lannet was killed in the crash and Engineer Gionolle and one other, Manuel, were injured, Gionolle seriously.

The disaster occurred when the Rainbow was being put through its final tests before its proposed start on a Paris-New York flight next week.

The big plane, so constructed that all of its essential machinery would be accessible during flight, became a complete wreck, parts of wings, fuselage and wires being strewn for 1,600 yards along the field. Gionolle was one of two youthful French engineers who designed the plane. The other, Cousinet, not being aboard when the crash came. Lannet and Manuel were both to have been in the crew on the Atlantic flight.

Maurice Drouhin was for a time last summer Charles A. Levine's pilot when the New Yorker planned a westward transatlantic flight.

For a short time the Levine-Drouhin combination worked smoothly, but soon their relationship was marred by disagreement and Drouhin's contract finally was cancelled and the flight called off.

Manchuria Receives Japanese Warning

Tokyo, Aug. 9.—Alarmed by reports that Manchuria was about to join with the Chinese Nationalist Government at Nanking, Japan yesterday warned the province not to take that step, and told Nanking that "suitable measures" would be initiated unless the Nationalists should recede from their attitude toward the special rights of Japanese citizens in China.

Baron Tanaka, Prime Minister, told the cabinet yesterday he had reliable information that Chang Hsueh-liang, military governor of Manchuria, and Chiang Kai-shek, Nationalist military commander-in-chief, had worked out the draft of an agreement to extend the Nanking way into Manchuria. It was understood here the agreement would grant complete autonomy to Manchuria in its domestic affairs, but give Nanking control of the foreign relations of the province. It was this latter aspect which aroused Tokyo to action. Nanking having already notified Japan of its abrogation of the commercial treaty granting extra-territorial rights to Japan. Japan's claim that this abrogation was illegal had been ignored by Nanking.

ACTING PREMIER

London, Aug. 9.—The temporary withdrawal from active life of Sir Austen Chamberlain, Foreign Secretary, through illness, leaves Premier Baldwin rather a delicate problem for settlement on his return to town from the country to-morrow. He will have to appoint an Acting Premier for his holiday in France, where he will spend the rest of the summer. By all ordinary rules the Acting Premier should be Mr. H. H. Asquith, Chancellor of the Exchequer. The Manchester Guardian declares, however, that Winston Churchill is "not trusted" or accepted by the Conservative Party.

Milk is Said To Be Sold at Cost

Vancouver, Aug. 9.—"At the present time there is too much competition in dairying. Many of the large dairies are selling milk at cost," declared Alderman H. E. Almond, president of the City Dairy and Produce Company Limited, when he gave evidence at the Vancouver milk inquiry yesterday afternoon. The witness said he was in favor of narrowing down the field of competition to two or three firms because large scale operations were more satisfactory than small. He opposed a monopoly and absolute control. "Absolute control might improve the quality of the milk," he said, "but I question if it would improve the service."

"THE WARNING" IS NOW BEING SCREENED AT THE COLUMBIA

Weird music emanated from the Columbia Pictures studio in Hollywood during the making of "The Warning." The action is laid in Hongkong, and in order to keep the players in the proper atmosphere, a Chinese orchestra furnished music during the making of interior scenes.

While George B. Seitz directed Jack Holt, Dorothy Revier, Frank Lackey, Pat Harmon, Eugene Strout, George Kuwa, Norman Trevor and a score of Mongolians, a four-piece Chinese orchestra rendered native music. The instruments consisted of a bamboo "saw" (flute), a moon harp, a teak-wood time-beater and a "sam yen." The last is a three-stringed instrument with a snakeskin top.

The plot deals with the capture of a gang of Chinese opium smugglers by agents of the British Secret Service. The picture, with its tortuous, unique situations and surprises, is being shown at the Columbia Theatre to-day.

FRANCIS X. BUSHMAN PLAYING HEAVY ROLE AT LOCAL PLAYHOUSE

Every industry has its outstanding celebrity whose name has become less of a name and more of a tradition: Jack Binns in wireless, Steinmetz in electricity, Mansfield on the stage and many others. And the one name that is most traditional in motion pictures is Francis X. Bushman. Patrons of the Playhouse Theatre now have the opportunity of seeing Bushman in the Universal-Jewel, "The Marriage Clause," which is now playing there. It is an interesting tale of theatrical life directed by Lois Weber. Opposite Bushman is seen the lovely Billie Dove, and in support of the two leading players are Warner Oland, Grace Darmond, Henry Victor and a brilliant ensemble of character artists.

SPLENDID CAST IN FILM NOW SHOWING AT CAPITOL HERE

Several years ago Fannie Hurst, celebrated novelist and short story writer, penned a story called "Roulette." As time went by, the makers of motion pictures were attracted to it and purchased the story. First National was the lucky company and they obtained it as a starring vehicle for Richard Barthelmess, under the title of "The Wheel of Chance."

Margaret Livingston plays the leading female role and the balance of the cast supporting Richard Barthelmess in "The Wheel of Chance" includes Lina Basquette, Warner Oland, Rodi Rossing and many others. It is an Alfred Santell production.

On the stage at the Capitol this week are Billy and Lenore Hacker, an acrobatic dance team, presenting a dance specialty: Ted Roy, the singing blacksmith, in song selections, and Jean Middleton, a concert violinist; Harold Bechtel, the singing M.C., and the Capitol Concert Orchestra.

LOVELY MEXICAN STAR PLAYS LEAD IN DOMINION FILM

A Hollywood fire recently razed over 100 Indian homes to the ground and provided the film city with one of the biggest thrills of the year.

In a short space of time, over $100,000 went up in smoke, attracting thousands of motorists from the highways to the scene of the blaze, several miles from the centre of Hollywood.

Fire engines from the film city were on the ground, their hoses stretching over a half mile to the nearest water connection.

The fact that the giant blaze was staged for an episode in "Ramona," now being released in motion picture form, did not matter a particle. Even the oldest old-timer, hardened with all the thrills the movie city offers daily, stood with the crowd and agreed it was a real, not "real" conflagration.

The fire, truly recorded by the Inspiration Pictures-Edwin Carewe camera, will form a brilliant part of "Ramona" at the Dominion Theatre all this week.

KRAZY KAT COMEDY

REGINALD DENNY AND FIGHT FILM NOW AT VARIETY

A capacity house at the Variety Theatre last night witnessed the film of the Tunney-Heeney fight. It is certainly an epic picture, and held the audience right through. Round by round the story increased in thrills as it builds up to the tenth great round in which Heeney, unsteady and bewildered, is battered to the ropes. If the audience admired the wonderful skill of Tunney, it also warmed to the dogged determination of Heeney, who proved such a worthy opponent and who went down with flying colors to the last. It is the film of a great fight—a man's fight with a great champion defending his title as only he could have done. The tenth and eleventh rounds, containing more fight per foot of film than any picture ever shown, are largely in "close motion." In addition to this main attraction is a fast moving Reginald Denny comedy, "Fast and Furious," a story dealing with the motor racing speedway.

TRUSTEE HOLLAND LEAVES SESSION OF SAANICH BOARD

Furnace Contract Provides Heated Moments

Announcing "I am through, finished," Trustee S. J. Holland last night retired from the session of the Saanich School Board, after heated protests against employment of a Victoria heating concern to install new furnaces in Gordon Head and Craigflower schools, contracts for which were recently awarded a Vancouver wholesale furnace concern.

Trustee Holland recalled that the contract had been awarded, on his own motion, without first calling for tenders. He regretted the omission, and believed that the request of the Taylor-Forbes Company for direct placement of the contract with their Victoria agents, gave adequate opportunity for cancelling the arrangement and calling for tenders.

Trustees Horner and Hobbs demurred at the delay which this procedure would cause, but Trustee Holland believed that the transfer of the contract would be to the disadvantage of the School Board.

Chairman Hobbs remarked that the Taylor-Forbes Company guaranteed results, and his own inquiries had satisfied him personally that the high claims made for the furnace were warranted.

Trustee Holland refused to accept the chairman's opinion, while admitting that he would probably favor the type of furnace if tenders were called. He recalled and denounced the support given by Chairman Hobbs to purchase for $6,500 of a residence near Cloverdale School, declared that the property had been listed at that time at $4,500, suddenly left his seat, seized his hat and departed. As Trustee Holland went out Chairman Hobbs asked, "Are you resigning from the board?"

Trustee Holland retorted, "It may be doing that, too." Chairman Hobbs asserted Trustee Holland's charge to be baseless.

Subsequently the board decided to proceed with the furnace work, holding the Taylor-Forbes Company responsible, and withholding twenty-five per cent of the price for sixty days.

Defeat Of Carrick In Olympic Boxing Proves Big Upset

Sensational Young Light-heavyweight From Toronto Loses Decision to Avendane, of Argentina, in the Quarter-finals; Vincent Glionna, Also of Toronto, Passes Out in Bantamweight Class, Making Sixth Canadian to Be Eliminated

Amsterdam, Aug. 9.—Don Carrick, of Toronto, was outpointed by Avendane, Argentina, in the quarter-finals of the Olympic light-heavyweight boxing division here to-day.

The Argentine won the second and third rounds by a substantial margin after holding Carrick even in the first.

The result was a surprise, as the Toronto boxer was considered one of the most promising prospects for the light-heavyweight title. Vincent Glionna, Toronto, bantamweight, lost on points to Isaacs, of South Africa, in a bout at the Olympic boxing tournament to-day. Six Canadian boxers have now been eliminated.

SMILLIE WINS AGAIN
Ray Smillie, of Toronto, advanced another round in the 147-pound class of the Olympic boxing tournament to-day when he outpointed Usuda, of Japan, after three fiercely fought rounds.

Smillie has now won three consecutive battles and passed the third elimination round.

JAP WANTED KNOCKOUT
Chenets greeted the Canadian and Japanese boxers when they entered the ring to-day. Smillie boxed smartly from the opening gong, evidently trying for points, while his opponent was trying to land heavily with his left.

The Japanese upped his left hand in a mixup in the center of the ring, but Smillie retaliated with right and left to the head. They appeared to be evenly matched.

Usuda danced around seeking an opening when the second round began and Smillie met him with right jabs to the face. A mixup occurred in the center of the ring, the Toronto boxer having a margin of superiority in the exchanges.

TIRE UNDER FACE
The opening of the third round also saw the Japanese dancing around, but failing to find an opening in Smillie's defence. He went in close, receiving as much as he gave. Both boxers jabbed fiercely to the face for a few moments, using their lefts. Smillie began using rights and lefts to the body near the close of the round. Both were tiring during the mixup in the center of the ring, when the gong sounded.

HAS BAD SPILL

BILL FEDEN

Amsterdam, Aug. 9.—"Torchy" Feden, Victoria cyclist, who competed in the Olympic cycling events, suffered a spill while competing for the Grand Prize at the Hague last night, only a day after racing in the Olympic road race. He was cut and bruised from his right ankle to his shoulder.

Feden, along with Lew Elder and Doc Morton, Toronto, the trainer, will go to Cologne, Berlin, Warsaw, Budapest and Paris, to compete in various events during the rest of the month. They also will ride against the English team in London on September 11.

GEOGHEGAN TO TWIRL TO-NIGHT

Sons Will Trot Out New Hurler in Game Against Eagles

Sons of Canada and Eagles will engage in a Senior Amateur League baseball game to-night at the Royal Athletic Park, starting at 6.15 o'clock. The game will be given an added attraction by the fact that Norman Geoghegan, the Sons' new twirler, will make his initial appearance. He performed in one game last season and on his showing then appeared to be a first class pitcher.

The Eagles will most likely use Roy Baker against the league champions. Last week he turned back the Sons in great style and is confident of being able to turn the trick a second time.

JOE ROSS WINS DIVING TITLE

Kelowna, B.C., Aug. 9.—Kelowna's twenty-second annual regatta and water sports got off to a good start to-day with favorable weather and a record number of entries on hand. Johnny Bayley, of Vancouver, was defeated in the mile swim by Henry Murdoch, of Kelowna. The young interior star won by fifteen yards. Joe Ross, of Victoria, won the fancy diving.

CANADIANS WIN HEAT IN RELAY SWIMMING RACE

First Home in 800-Metre Swim With Great Britain in Second Place

U.S. Team Wins Heat and Sets New Olympic Record; Spain's Bad Time

Amsterdam, Aug. 9.—Canada won the second elimination heat of the 800 metres relay in the Olympic swimming to-day. Britain was second. Both teams qualified for the final.

The United States won the first heat, Japan was second, Sweden third and Argentina fourth and last. The time of the United States was 9 minutes 38.45 seconds, a new Olympic record.

Hungary won the third elimination heat in 9:48.3, and Spain was second.

TWO TEAMS DISQUALIFIED
Germany and Italy finished second and third, respectively, in the third heat, but were disqualified because the swimmers leaped into the water to reach their comrades before the latter touched the side of the pool and finished their 200 metres.

Spain's time of 11 minutes 50 seconds was the worst time of any of the thirteen teams competing in the three heats, but they qualified for the final nevertheless.

Great Britain won the second and last elimination heat in the 400 metres relay for women. Germany was second and both teams qualified for the final. Britain's time was 5 minutes 16.3 seconds.

Amsterdam, Aug. 9 (By W. H. Ingram, Canadian press staff correspondent).—Miss Dorothy Prior of Toronto, the only girl swimmer from Canada, was eliminated from competition in her specialty, the 200-metre breast stroke swim. She was fourth in her heat. All the United States women swimmers in this event also were defeated in their heats, including the redoubtable Agnes Geraghty, who was 1924 champion. The finalists are all husky Dutch and German girls.

British, Dominion and Japanese girls were competing in the Women's A.A.A. Championships at London.

Joe Wright Gets Rest On Eve Of Great Test With U. S. In Final

Famous Canadian Sculler Who Has Been in Eight Grueling Races Since Last Thursday, Finally Gets a Chance to Recuperate; United States Pair Win Way Into Final by Defeating Austrians

Amsterdam, Aug. 9.—Joe Wright Jr. and Jack Guest of Toronto, Canada's doubles scullers crew, had a good rest to-day and will be ready for the battle of their lives when they meet Charles McIlwaine and Paul Costello of the United States for the Olympic doubles championship to-morrow afternoon.

The Canadian pair were fortunate in drawing a bye to-day, while the United States couple defeated Australia, the only other semi-finalists.

The doubles final will be rowed about 4.15 p.m., Holland time. Everyone here expects the race to furnish as gruelling a battle as the one between Toronto Argos and the University of California in the eights yesterday, in which the Argos were beaten by a half length.

To-day was Joe Wright's first holiday from sculling since last Wednesday, except for Sunday. He has had eight races altogether in the singles and doubles since the events started last Thursday, and the day off should be of great benefit to the young holder of the Diamond Sculls.

The Americans' time to-day in beating Australia was 7 minutes 22.5 seconds.

The Swiss four-oared shell, with coxswain, beat Poland by three lengths in 7.14.2-5 and entered the finals against Italy.

The Canadian double scullers, who have a bye in the finals, rowed the 200-metre course in 7.23.2-5.

These were the only events scheduled to-day. Finals in all the seven Olympic classes will be rowed to-morrow.

GOOD PRELIMS ON FIGHT CARD

Lively Bouts Should Be Seen in Leading Up to Lake-Fielding Scrap

Considerable interest is being displayed by the fans in the preliminary bouts which Joe Bayley has arranged for his show at the Tillicum Club Saturday evening.

The semi-windup contest between Danny Pastore and Stoker H. Johnson promises to be a real battle. This will be the second time these two fighters have met. At their first encounter a few weeks back Pastore won a close decision after four rounds of fast milling.

Since that time the H.M.S. Durand fighter has engaged in a couple of ban fights and has been working out daily with Stoker Lake. According to word received Johnson is a much improved fighter and his friends look for him to win from Pastore Saturday night.

ALBIE MEETS TOUGH BOY
Albie Davies is billed for tough competition in Albie Seaman F. Webster, who is reported to be an aggressive fighter with a heavy wallop. The sailors expect he will put a crimp in the local boy's record.

Tim Keist meets a clever boxer in Stoker Thomas. The sailor appeared against Megallanes of Seattle at the show here a few weeks ago and, after giving the Filipino a boxing lesson for three rounds, had the misfortune of running into a wild swing and was unable to continue.

The curtain raiser will bring together B. Jennings of the Royal Canadian Navy, a native of Calgary and a man Worthington of the Durban, who beat Tiger Napoleon of Seattle at the last show here. Both sailors are good and a fine bout should be witnessed.

There has been a steady demand for tickets and it looks as if a large crowd of fans will attend the bouts.

of the North Alberta Regiment, of Inisfail, and Sgt. Frank Ho Lem of the 13th C.M.G.C. of Calgary. They will shoot off for the silver and bronze medals of their Royal Highnesses the Duke and Duchess of Cornwall and York, and to qualify for the $50, $25 and $20 money prizes.

Lieut. R. H. Jenner, Regina Rifle Club, had a score of 97.

SIDNEY WIN FIRST GAME

Defeat Westholmes 8-7 in First of Series For Commercial League Title

Sidney got away to a flying start in the play-off for the McGavin Cup, emblematic of the Commercial League baseball championship, when they defeated the Westholmes 8-7 in the first game of the series played at Sidney last night.

It was a sweet victory for the millmen and a bitter pill for the Westholmes to swallow. After fighting an uphill battle the Westholmes obtained the lead only to fall down in the last inning, giving Sidney a victory.

Westholmes scored two runs in the first inning but Sidney went one better in their half of the inning. In the last of the fifth the millmen shoved over two more runs to make the score 5-3 in their favor.

In the seventh the Westholmes went on a rally that gave them five runs and a two-run lead. Steele, who had been pitching for Sidney, was yanked in the middle of the inning in favor of Simpson.

Sidney scored their three runs in the seventh on two wild pitches and a passed ball.

Donaldson, twirled for the Westholmes and pitched a fair brand of ball.

COURTENAY TO PERFORM HERE IN PLAY-OFF

Will Oppose Capitals Saturday in First Game of Series For Island Ball Title

Up-islanders Have Strong Nine; Forbes and McKee Will Be Opposing Pitchers

In the first game of the play-off series for the championship of the Vancouver Island Baseball League the Victoria Capitals will meet Courtenay at the Royal Athletic Park on Saturday afternoon, commencing at 3 o'clock.

"Allie" McGregor will be the umpire.

Keen interest is being taken in the game and one of the largest crowds of the season is expected to be on hand. These teams have engaged in two games this season and failed an even break, with one victory and defeat apiece. The Capitals won the game in Victoria by a 12-10 score, while Courtenay won the game on their home grounds by a 5-0 score.

EVENLY MATCHED
The teams are very evenly matched and the game should be a nip and tuck affair from start to finish. The second game of the series will be played in Courtenay on August 19. Should a third game be necessary, it will be played in Nanaimo. The winner of this series will meet the Mainland champions for the British Columbia championship.

Norm Forbes, star hurler of the Capitals, will take the mound on Saturday. He is in first-class pitching form and his teammates are banking on him to turn in a victory.

McKee will be Courtenay's choice for the first game. He beat the Capitals in the game played Up-island, but was knocked out of the box in the game played in Victoria. He has lots of speed and may give the Victoria team plenty of trouble.

The teams will be as follows: Capitals—More, c. Forbes, p. Webster, 1st; H. Cummins, 2nd; McKee, 3rd; Minnis, 3rd; Wachter, 1st; Outman, c.f.; Dunn, r.f.

Courtenay—Downey, c. McKee, p. Dickson, 1st; J. Cummins, 2nd; Hunden, 3rd; Harris, 3rd; Mellard, 1st; Robinson, c.f.; Stant, r.f.

CUPID PROVES CAUSE OF GENE QUITTING RING

Tunney May Lose Million Dollars By Retiring But He Picks an Heiress

South Bristol, Maine, Aug. 9.—Gene Tunney, whose retirement as heavyweight champion has been estimated to have cost him $1,000,000 or more in potential ring earnings, is to marry the granddaughter of one of the early Pittsburgh millionaires.

His engagement to Miss Mary Josephine Rowland Lauder, granddaughter of George Lauder, one of the organizers of the Carnegie Steel Company and a cousin of Andrew Carnegie, was announced yesterday by Mrs. George Lauder Jr., his fiancée's mother, from her summer home near here.

The marriage will take place in New York in the late autumn or winter. Tunney is with his fiancée and her family at the summer home, at John's Island.

HASN'T DONE BAD
The announcement confirmed reports, current since he announced his retirement from the ring on July 31 after defeating Tom Heeney, that a forthcoming marriage was the real reason for his retirement. Since he won the championship three years ago, Tunney has earned approximately $2,000,000.

Miss Lauder is the daughter of the late George Lauder Jr., prominent yachtman of ten years ago, who inherited a fortune from his father and increased it during his lifetime. Her family is listed in the social register.

NINE YEARS OLDER
She is tall and dark, a striking brunette, as compared to Tunney, who is fair. She is an Episcopalian. He is a Roman Catholic. Miss Lauder is twenty-one years old and first met Tunney when she was sixteen. Tunney is thirty years old.

The fight between Tunney and Heeney was really won by Dan Cupid, although Tunney was given a technical knockout. Soon after the fight Heeney announced his marriage and now Tunney has taken the count.

SOFTBALL
Defeating the Y.M.C.A. 15-8 the Royals captured the Feden Softball Cup last night at the Central Park. The winners have already won the Gonnason Cup, emblematic of the "C" section championship.

Cameron Lumber Company defeated Cordova Bay 12-9 to capture the run-nip-up cup for the "A" section of the City League.

McGraw Buzzes Along But No One Seems To Know How He Does It

New York Giants Continue Sensation in the National League, But They Must Play Four Doubleheaders With Boston Braves Next Month, and This Is Tough Assignment at This Stage of Race;

Although St. Louis Cards Are Favorites Giants May Have Big Say

Nobody knows how John McGraw is doing it, but there he is with a record of nineteen victories and five defeats in the first half of his campaign against Western clubs.

The New York team alone of all the Eastern defenders, bettered the .500 mark in the Western invasion which closed yesterday. They scored thirteen victories and suffered only four defeats—.765 per cent baseball.

Anything approaching that pace in the twenty-seven remaining games against the Western clubs, together with a normal pace against the East, would bring Mr. McGraw in for some very serious consideration along about next September 30.

The St. Louis Cardinals, however, must remain favorites for the National League flag, so long as they play a steady game. Cardinal pitching again had an off-day at the Polo Grounds yesterday, when Sherdel and Haid took a beating which netted the home team a 10-5 victory.

CARDS LEAD REDUCED
The success of the Giants' arms in hand-to-hand fighting with the leaders reduced the margin of the Cardinals to four and one-half games.

The fly in John McGraw's ointment—that he must play eight games against the Braves in four days on September 10, 11, 12 and 13, and that is no bargain at any stage of the game, even against the Braves. McGraw, after all, will have to call on some inexperienced pitchers in the double-header epidemic.

After posing as contenders through two-thirds of the season Brooklyn finally have assumed their normal position with every assistance from the thoughtful Pirates' ex-convict, who pinned himself with a good game yesterday, as the Pirates fought through to their third one-run victory in Brooklyn in a race which ended in a straight in the east. The score was 4 to 3.

PHILLIES TAKE PAIR
While the Robins were settling firmly into sixth place, just above the Braves and the Phillies, a miracle was being performed at Philadelphia. The Phillies were cleaning up their fourth straight against McCarthy's ex-convict, the Chicago Cub, 4 to 3.

The Cincinnati Reds ran their string of losses to eight straight by permitting the Braves to win both games of a doubleheader at Boston 6 to 3 and 12 to 1.

The American League teams were engaged in traveling or in exhibitions engagements. Not content to let a day go by in peace, the Athletics were winning 11 to 8 in ten innings at Birmingham.

Incidentally this was the third defeat for Alberta, and the following their splendid play, the coast eleven are favored to win the 1928 tournament championship.

In a slow-scoring game, Saskatchewan, in a well-merited victory from Manitoba, 93 to 71, mainly due to the strong attack of the visiting players. Their bowlers were in great form and received accolades.

| Saskatchewan | 3 | 1 |
| Manitoba | 1 | 2 |

ALBERTA OUT FAST
Alberta fared none too well. Higgs played a nice free game, scoring rapidly for his 25, placing the ball to all parts of the field. Later on in the innings, Timms and Muter staged a nice partnership, making 24 runs, the former being undisturbed for 13, the latter making 11. The fact of the batsmen could only gather sixteen runs between them, Rivers, Peters and Bullen being in deadly form.

T.-V. Eleven Surprise With Victory Over Wednesday Cricket Leaders

Another surprise was sprung in the Wednesday Cricket League yesterday when the Tracey-Verrall eleven, tail-enders, rose and smashed the Tillicums, league leaders, on the nose for a win. The Tillicums were anxious for a win as they would have won them the league championship. They then have to wait a little longer for the honor.

The match was a high scoring affair, the bowlers having command of the situation all the way. The Tillicums had a chance to win in the second innings, but a couple of absentees left them short-handed to carry on at the bat.

Richest Indians Prepare For Day When Oil Fails

Pawhuska, Okla., Aug. 9.—The Osage Indians—wealthiest people in the world, despite the fact they are among the most primitive, have just elected a new chief in an effort to modernize themselves.

He is Chief Fred Lookout, sixty-seven, a full-blood Osage and for many years a picturesque figure in tribal affairs who believes in doing things the way the white man does them. He succeeds old Chief Bacon Rind, a conservative standpatter.

Bacon Rind had been content to sit back and accept the millions that pour into the tribal funds yearly from the Osage oil fields, little caring about the future. Chief Lookout foresees the day when the Osage oil wells will be no more and wants to prepare his people to meet the new conditions.

In agriculture, he places the hope for perpetuation of his tribe and is urging his people to adopt the white man's methods.

"And too many of my people intermarry with white people," he laments in broken English. "I want Osages to marry each other and keep the tribe from dying out. I want my people to be like the white brothers we can live on homesteads and run our farms good. Osages will be better off doing that than growing fat and lazy on oil. Some day the oil will go."

There are 2,287 "headrights" on the Osage tribal rolls, each "headright" paying from $10,000 a year up to a headright is transferable only through inheritance and this means that some Osages hold as many as twelve headrights. The money is paid to them quarterly by the federal government, which acts as their guardian.

Experience in competition is indispensable to the man who wants to win important events. Few youngsters ever break through to a big championship without first going through the mill of bitter defeats.

But to gain experience is one thing and to become fed up with competition is quite another. In the hope of hardening themselves against the nervous strain of a championship, many players set themselves to the performance of a schedule which simply burns them out.

Rarely, if ever, does the leading pro of the winter season become even an important factor in the open championship played in June. Tournament after tournament taken at high speed takes away the keen edge from the most perfect game, and no competitor is dangerous who is not keyed up to the minute and anxious to play golf.

Johnny Farrell must have had in mind this year the failures in the Spring, of the seasons of past winter seasons. After scoring brilliantly in Miami, Johnny played his way north through the rest of the circuit, and then announced that he would not go to England. He realized that he was over-golfed and needed a rest.

Fat Protects Organs And is Reserve Fuel

By DR. MORRIS FISHBEIN
In the normal human being there is a moderate amount of fat, widely distributed over the body, under the skin, around the various organs, mixed with the fibres of muscles, and in other places.

Dr. Mary S. Rose has listed succinctly the purposes of the fat in the body. It serves as a padding for the organs and for the muscles, protecting them against bumps and blows.

It has advantages as insulation and is a storehouse of energy on which the body can draw in times of famine. It is well known that animals build up fat reserves against periods of starvation. In the same way the human being stores in his body any excess of fuel foods beyond what may be needed for immediate purposes.

FUEL STORAGE
When the muscles act the fuel store is called on to take care of the demand. When sugar and starch, the foods that are known as carbohydrates, are taken into the body they are stored first in the liver and in the muscles in the form of a compound called glycogen.

In time of need this glycogen is called on as a fuel supply. However, the capacity of the muscles and the liver for glycogen is definitely limited. When an excess of sugars and

RELICS OF FAME TO BE SOLD TO NAVAL OFFICERS

Ships Bells Which Rang While Battles Roared Among Trophies to Be Preserved

Reuter's Special to The Victoria Times London (By Mail).—Few ships disappear entirely at the end of their brief decades of life at sea. "The old man," or the owners, the officers or members of the crew who have made many a voyage in even the humblest tramp steamer, preserve a few souvenirs of her. The Admiralty has just circulated an order announcing that about sixty bells from ships which participated in battles during the World War are to be sold to naval officers who desire to acquire them for £5 apiece. No bell will be sold for three months, in order to leave time for applications from officers now serving in distant parts of the world who may desire for personal reasons to possess a certain bell. Bells of several submarines are among those offered; and bells from Renard, Savage and Jackal (partici-

The Admiralty Board therefore decided to make a distinction in the names of this "B" class, and they will take the names of cathedral cities. York is the first. The second will be Exeter, now building at Devonport.

Canterbury is a vessel of the "C" class built during the Great War. When our 10,000 "county" cruisers took the water there was comment on their not having been more powerfully engined, their limit of speed being about thirty-one knots. The latest French 10,000-ton cruiser is reported to have averaged thirty-six knots in full power tests, and Italy, which cannot bear a posi-

H.M.S. York Typifies New Series of British Cruisers

Reuter's Special to The Victoria Times

London (By Mail).—Yorkshiremen may wonder why the new cruiser which the Duchess of York launched at the yard of the Palmer's Shipbuilding and Iron Company at Jarrow recently is to be called the York and not the Yorkshire, seeing that all previous cruisers designed and built since the Great War have taken the names of counties. The reason is that the York is the type ship of a new class of smaller dimensions than those which

This Club Ought To Be Exclusive

Pennsylvania State College has at least one society that is destined to remain quite select and exclusive.

One reason, of course, is that invitations are not issued promiscuously. But a more important one seems to be a reticent dinner which one is required to eat in order to acquire active membership.

A recent initiation into the "Den of Rattles" took place at the nature study camp in the Seven Mountains. Qualifying members were required to eat at least one bite of the strange food, with the choice of having it fried or triced.

A fool's advice is usually free but expensive.

PLEADS TO SAVE ENGLISH BIRDS

T. A. Coward Says Bird-life Should Be Protected; Urges Collections Cease

Reuter's Special to The Victoria Times London (By Mail).—In the current number of the Journal of the Society for the Protection of Birds there is a plea for a total cessation in the British Isles of collecting for museum purposes. Bird eggs and bird skins are embraced in the appeal. It is made by that delightful authority on bird lore, T. A. Coward, who frankly confesses that he was, for twenty years, a collector, and disarms criticism on that score by pleading that his "crimes" were committed long years ago, and that he had atoned for them by being a "reformed character" for the last thirty years. Mr. Coward's argument is that for all reasonable purposes of ornithological study there is no need now to take a single additional British egg. The problems of identification, he says, can best be studied in situ or from comparison with the long series already at hand for use. He sees no practical value in adding to the present museum stores of British bird skins. Mr. Coward does not seek to invoke the law to bring about his suggested reform. He has the naturalist's despairing view of the law in these matters. Rather does he pin his faith to the pressure of public opinion, and he believes that if public opinion could be aroused the market for bird collections—the means which make nest-raiding of monetary profit—would in time be

NEWS IN BRIEF

Eric W. Blackburn and Miss Schofield were last night appointed to the teaching staff of the Saanich School Board.

Small grass fires near the Royal Athletic Park, on Work Street and on Davis Street, gave the fire department three runs this morning. The fires were quickly extinguished.

H. Shelland and K. Kiddell were each fined $5 in City Police Court this morning for failing to produce their driver's licenses upon the request of an officer.

Two automobiles were in collision at the intersection of St. Charles Street and Angus Road to-day. The damage to both vehicles was slight, according to the police report, and no one was injured.

Thomas Parkinson, who pleaded guilty to a charge of driving to the common danger, was fined $15 in City Police Court this morning. Constable Paris Atkinson, who gave evidence, stated the accused was driving at thirty-five miles an hour on Quadra Street.

The new amendments to the Canadian Pensioners Act will be discussed at a meeting of the Victoria branch of the Canadian Pensioners of the Great War to be held to-morrow night at 8 o'clock at 64 Surrey Street. All Canadian ex-servicemen disabled pensioners are urged to attend this meeting.

The last of the Wednesday evening dances given under the auspices of the Summer School was held last night. Almost all the students and staff attended the function, which was most enjoyable. The closing exercises will take place this evening commencing at 7 o'clock. They will include displays of work, a concert and a demonstration of folk dancing.

At the expense of the Provincial Department of Health, dental inspection of the children attending four of the rural schools of Saanich will be carried out this fall by Dr. W. Farber. No treatment will be given except the reports being filed with Schools Dentist Dr. S. Toudien. The schools to be inspected will be St. Joseph's, Keating, West Saanich and Prospect Lake.

To strengthen school principals' efforts to attain maximum results, the Saanich School Board last night formally decided that appointments made to the various grades are tentative, subject to change by the respective principals. The resolution following reports that principals desiring to change their teachers had been met by objections that the board had made definite appointments.

The Saanich School Board last night rearranged supervision of schools, the following appointments being made: Trustee W. Tomlin and primary and Lake Hill; Trustee A. E. Horner, Cloverdale, Craigflower and Tillamook; Trustee F. P. Jean, Gordon Head, Royal Oak and Prospect Lake; Trustee S. J. Holland, Cedar Hill, McKenzie Avenue and Strawberry Vale; Chairman F. V. Hobbs, Keating, Saanich and West Saanich.

The stage for the liquor chief's long expected statement of policy in this regard was practically set at a conference here yesterday.

"The Government stands four square behind the Liquor Board in any action it has taken or may take," stated Attorney-General Price following the conference.

Through the board, the Government is determined there will be no violation by exporters of the Liquor Control Act of Ontario.

CIVIC BUILDING MAY BE ERECTED

Vancouver City Council Approves Tentative Plan For Administration Offices

Vancouver, Aug. 9.—Proposals that a temporary civic office building be erected at Fender and Main Streets, immediately adjacent to the City Hall, were tentatively approved by the Vancouver City Council at a special meeting this forenoon.

It is proposed the building be three stories high. It would cost approximately $125,000. The proposal was rejected by the ratepayers some time ago. Because of the new discovery of the City Controller, J. J. Fyfe, the council has been instructed to report on the council's power to appropriate funds to construct the building. City Architect, Geo. Bird has been instructed to prepare an estimate of the cost.

NEW LIGHT ON SOLOMON'S LIFE

U.S. Archaeologists Excavate Stables of Ancient King at Armageddon

Chicago, Aug. 9.—Evidence that King Solomon bred pure-blooded horses for the chariot race, as stated in the Bible, has been discovered by the eyes of archaeologists.

P. L. O. Guy, field director of an expedition of the University of Chicago, has reported the discovery of the famous stables of Solomon at Armageddon, Palestine.

The 3,000-year-old stables cover half an acre of the site of the ancient battle site north of Jerusalem.

Mr. Guy reports: "Having excavated down through several of the uppermost strata containing scattered and unrelated buildings, the clearance of Armageddon has now reached a level which is disclosing a well laid out town, with streets and groups of buildings."

Dr. Guy reports: "The Oriental Institute of the University of Chicago, has long been eagerly awaiting the discovery of the stables."

"Such a discovery will be of the greatest historical importance," he declared. "Few people are aware that Solomon was not only an Oriental sovereign, but likewise a successful merchant. Not the least of his activities was his enterprise as a horse dealer."

PREMIER TOURS PRAIRIE AREA

given in his honor in the city of Prince Albert, motored seventy miles to address a large open-air gathering of his constituents at Blaine Lake, returned by motor to the city. He was the guest of honor and speaker at a garden party, and returned to Prince Albert late in the evening.

During his travels he spent a brief time at a baseball game at the little town of Parkside. The game was called and Mr. King mounted a convenient bench and spoke for a few minutes.

SPOKE OF PEACE WORK

The Prime Minister's audience at Blaine Lake was a cosmopolitan one. Ruthenians, Galicians, Lechonsians and Poles were gathered with people from the British Isles and Canada to hear him speak.

From some of his Doukhobour constituents, of whom there are 1,200, he received a book entitled "Christ and War," and addressing his audience, the Premier spoke of peace. He said of his efforts in the direction of conciliation when he was associated with the Federal Department of Labor many years ago. "Of this spirit," he said, "I have grown his interest in the League of Nations, whose sessions in Geneva he would shortly attend as one of Canada's representatives."

Mr. King's visit to his constituency thus far has been in the nature of a "get-together" with his constituents. He is seizing this opportunity to thank them for the support they have given him.

BRITAIN BRINGS ANTI-WAR PACT BEFORE LEAGUE

Geneva, Aug. 9.—Great Britain officially brought the Kellogg outlawry of war pact before the League of Nations to-day by transmitting copies of its two notes to Washington on the question.

The League also was informed by Britain that signing of the Kellogg treaty would not involve a conflict with their objectives resulting from membership in the League.

The British communication, at Great Britain's request has been circulated among all members of the League and, in official opinion, is almost certain to lead to a general discussion of the Kellogg pact at the sessions of the assembly.

All states that are members of the League may now initiate debate on the significance of the pact to the maintenance of international peace and as an encouragement to the reduction of armaments.

JOHN DEAN WARNS CITY CLERK OF STORM IN OFFING

Objecting to being required to call at the City Hall to obtain a copy of the city's annual report, John Dean this morning verbally informed City Clerk M. F. Hunter: "I am going to raise a row about this report."

Four hundred copies of the annual report for 1927 were printed, at a cost to the city of $425. Most of the copies are supplied to eastern financial houses, bond dealers and libraries. The city has 9,000 ratepayers.

FRUIT OUTPUT AHEAD OF 1927

Vernon Farmers Have Filled 250 Cars to Date; Compare of Prices

Vernon, Aug. 9.—Though the movement of fruits and vegetables does not mean an anxious orchardist's eye at all rushing, the Associated Growers announce that to August 8 they had filled 250 cars while to similar date in 1927 they had shipped only 180.

Orchardists are complaining of the low prices set by the Committee of Direction. The committee claims the low prices are necessary to move the crop, but some shipping agencies point out that many mixed cars are sold to country points and the small difference in price which means a profit for the growers is a factor when the quantities to be ordered in the cars are being determined.

Though no release date has been set by the committee of direction, it is said some of the wealthies will be ready in ten days. Sun scald is showing up on the apples, with great detriment to the amount of damage it will cause.

O. A. Barrat, the Associated representative to the Old Country, will not return until after the new year.

FRENCH PRAISE PRINCE OF WALES

Tributes in Newspapers; He Joined in Memorial Events on Battlefields

Paris, Aug. 9. (Canadian Press Cable via Reuters).—The French have found a hero to worship in the Prince of Wales, who spent the early part of his life in the study of the history of the world, and in the study of the world's history.

The manner in which the popular imagination was struck by the Prince's unaffected simplicity is reflected in the columns of anecdotes and tributes published in the Paris newspapers, which describe him as possessing his grandfather's "kindness of heart."

They appear particularly impressed by his "youthful figure, in a grey tunic without waistcoat, and looking among the crowds at receptions and addressing a few easy words to often embarrassed local dignitaries."

The religious solemnity of the great parade after the memorial service at Ypres yesterday is also appreciated in Paris, even the non-clerical Debates publishing the service fully.

The parade after the memorial service for transportation and feeding the great pilgrimage finally are hailed as a triumph for British organization.

The seismograph at the University of Santa Clara registered a shock of 1 minute 31 seconds. No damage was reported.

EDUCATION TREND IS REVIEWED

V. L. Denton Compares Past and Present Teaching Methods

Remarking that the average citizen pays most attention to the educational matters when the yearly tax bill is received, Prof. V. L. Denton this afternoon presented to the Rotary Club, at the Empress Hotel, a review of the achievements and objectives of modern education.

He believed that in the years to come education bills will be heavier, and hoped that the accounts would be paid cheerfully. "We teachers have to deliver the goods," he pointed out, remarking that the educational facilities of the world to-day developed from ideas unknown a century ago.

The people of Western Canada thirty years ago set an example by demanding the best of educational facilities, and cheerfully paying the cost.

Education to-day is better and more general than ever. Illiteracy in British Columbia is rare, but it costs money to achieve such results, Prof. Denton pointed out.

MUST KEEP PACE

Modern life is complex and education must suit itself to that condition. A strong nation is a well-trained nation, and the teaching world realizes that it must keep abreast of the times.

"There has never been a time when there has been such a ferment in educational inquiry," he said.

NEW VIEWPOINT

A new conception of history, such as our ancestors never had, is now prevalent. People are realizing that the record of the past should show more than the personal careers of kings and rulers. It should reflect the life of the people. As now taught history shows the growth of human society from the simple to the complex.

"If we cannot get our young people to know the past we are going to have a dangerous situation with us in the next thirty years."

"Our boys and girls ought to appreciate the conditions under which they live to-day, compared to the conditions of the past, when the people dwelt in walled cities for safety."

ECONOMIC FACTS

Prof. Denton discussed the accumulation of capital, the development of better food reserves, better breeds of animals, and other economic aspects of history, now being stressed in the schools.

"Our civilization is not yet perfect; let us try to make it better. Our citizens in British Columbia are the heirs of the ages, but he has a duty to make our land a better place for those coming on. That is the teaching of modern history," he said.

LIBRARIES NEEDED

The influence of library facilities, public and in the schools, was of importance, and in the next five years the matter must be dealt with, he said.

NATIVE FACTORS

The winning of North America by the white man was due to use of iron. The Red Indians having attained the highest stage possible to stone age man. The white man gained greatly from the Indians by adoption of corn and potatoes, and modern history gives credit to the Red Indians for such contributions to man's progress.

Surveying Canada and her primitive population, three types of Indian are found, and modern history studies the surroundings of those people rather than their warlike characters. In the East the tribal life depended greatly on the influence of those people from the primitive in character compared with the primitive people, whose life was governed by the buffalo. Indians were chiefly busy in the slaughter of the food supply of the prairie tribes.

On the Pacific Coast the cedar tree was a major factor in the life of the tribes, which adapted this wood to a multitude of uses.

Such facts are being stressed in modern methods of instruction, children responding with great effect. Books on such matters of historic interest are urgently needed, teachers being unable to personally present the vast array of facts now available.

"The teachers to-day are awake, alive, and I think deserve your support in the work they are trying to do. You have provided good schools, but there is one little hole you have left unplugged, there are not good libraries in the schools," he considered.

The new education is getting the child in the frame of mind where he wants to know things, and will use his own time to find out," said Mr. Denton, telling of enthusiastic youngsters who even invaded the office of the late Premier Oliver in search of information on the Confederation of thirty years ago, when the children only tried to learn while in the school-room.

Ted Roy of Oregon, second prize winner in the nationwide Atwater Kent radio auditions of last winter, introduced by Clifford Denham, defender, group of tenor solos, being accompanied by Chris Wade.

TO-DAY'S GRAIN MARKETS

By Branson, Brown & Co. Ltd.
Winnipeg, Aug. 9.—The wheat market was firm to-day with prices mostly about a higher, but actually gave a poor response to the strength in cables and to the sharp upturn in Chicago. Trade was of the lightest: features character, with the buying anything but good. There was a little scattered short covering going on at times, but the pool was said to be selling sufficient wheat to fill up this demand. Sea-board estimated overnight wheat sales Manitoba-durums and Winters at around 1,000,000 bushels, but there was no evidence of export business in this market. The demand for cash wheat was much quieter to-day, and while offerings continued small, spreads were unchanged on most grades. The strength in Chicago was reported based on the short covering, due to the United States Government report coming out this evening, which will estimate the winter wheat crop at 1,000,000,000 bushels, but the indicated yield of spring wheat, corn, oats, barley and other commodities. The Canadian Government report is due on Saturday, and will give the first estimate of yields.

The weather in Western Canada has continued dry with temperatures rather high, being over 90 at several points. Broomfield estimates that the world's surplus of wheat this season will be 315,000,000 bushels more than last season with import requirements only 27,000,000 bushels more. This is construed as quite bearish. The English statisticians estimated the surplus at 1,104,000,000 bushels and import requirements at 284,000,000 bushels. The trend of the market will be largely influenced by the character of the two government reports, but we believe prices will be very difficult to hold. Coarse grains—There was a little domestic business in oats, while New York interests were making barley and rye, but business was quite small. The cash demand was very quiet for all grains, and spreads on barley declined 2c. Oats futures closed 1/4 to 1/2 higher, barley 1/4 lower to 1/2 higher, and rye 1/4 higher.

Flax continues dull with further scattered liquidation going on and the demand poor. Closing prices about 1c lower.

Chicago, Aug. 9.—Wheat: Strength in Liverpool disclosed a heavily over-sold market at the start, December jumping 4 1/2c over the finish of the previous day with general short covering in evidence. Less hedging and foreign selling of late. Winnipeg did not reflect the American upturn and crop reports from the prairie provinces continued favorable, with a forecast of fair and considerable crop, evening up for the Government report, which is due at 3 p.m. Chicago time. Export demand showed improvement, with one estimate of 2,000,000 bushels of all grains to have been sold. Still see no grounds on which to buy wheat.

The corn market was active at the start and prices advanced sharply on short covering. The underdone was relatively firm throughout the session. Cash basis steady to half cent higher. Weather conditions remain excellent for the time. The new crop and trade inclined to look for a bearish Government report to-day, although there was considerable evening up.

Synopsis by Stranahan.

GREEK BATTLES

The Greeks evidently had two types of vessels—warships and commercial craft. The warship was long and narrow with three tiers of oars. Sometimes there were as many as 170 oarsmen in a vessel and the sail was used very little. These vessels used their beaks as rams to destroy the enemy. One of the Greek warships is pictured here.

Greek commercial ships were double-ended and flat-bottomed and depended upon large square sails rather than oars.

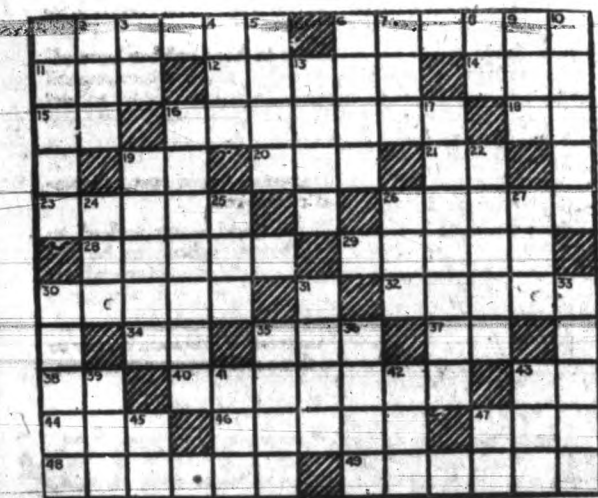

The Greeks became powerful at sea, but their control was threatened by Xerxes, the Persian, whose ambitions led him into conflict with them.

Xerxes, at the head of 1200 ships, led an attack against the Greeks. The Greeks had only 378 triremes, but defeated the Persians through their greater knowledge of seafaring and skill in handling their craft. The Greeks knew how to tack, that is sail against the wind, and could navigate such strong tides as those of the Dardanelles.

Solution of Yesterday's Puzzle

To-morrow's Horoscope

FRIDAY, AUGUST 10, 1928

Good and evil planetary influences are read in the horoscope for this day by astrologers who find that benefic aspects are slightly dominant.

It is a day when the mind should be clear and the perceptions acute. It should be a favorable time for making important decisions. One of the drawbacks to the sharpened wits of this rule of the stars is likely to be a tendency to recognize faults and weaknesses among associates or among members of one's family.

There is a promising sign for aviation which is to attain new popularity before Winter adds to the difficulties of air flights. This is a mildly auspicious day for business and brokers should be especially careful. Again a sinister aspect appears to govern agriculturists, but it may be merely a warning against severe Autumn storms. Industry may be affected by unexpected demands for products that bring added prosperity. Persons whose birthdate it is may have a year of prosperity which they hinder by anxiety and fear. These subjects of Leo should remember that they have the Sun for their governing planet. Children born on this day will probably have successful careers, but they will do best alone, and should avoid partnerships. They may be intense in nature and inclined to have too many love affairs in their lives. (Copyright, 1928)

ICE PROHIBITS SHIP LANDING

Beothic Fails to Find Approach Through Ice to Post on Bache Peninsula

Ottawa, Aug. 9.—Four days of battering the great ice fields lodged in Foul Bay and Buchanan Bay failed to provide an opening for the approach of the Beothic and the Canadian Arctic Expedition to the post of Bache Peninsula on Ellesmere Island.

An ice pack heavier and greater in extent than any other encountered on any previous voyage cut off all the approaches by water to that farthest north post and as a result the expedition was forced to abandon its attempt to reach the detachment and landed supplies and provisions at Framhaven, at the southeastern entrance to Buchanan Bay.

Word of the encounter with the heavy ice and around Buchanan Bay was contained in wireless dispatches received by the department of the interior here to-day. Members of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police detachment of Bache Peninsula who had traveled across from the post to Elice Strait took charge of the supplies when it was found necessary to unload at Framhaven and with the aid of Eskimos and dogteams they will transport the materials to the post.

After performing that duty the Beothic was headed southward to Smith Sound. Five miles from Cape Sabine the ship again ran into very heavy ice and further progress seemed impossible. However, after a hard fight the vessel cleared the ice pack at noon of August 7. Two Eskimo families from the Dundas Harbor post were landed at Smith Sound. The ship then proceeded southward about fifty miles south of Etah. These natives had been replaced by those brought north from Pond Inlet.

From Nerk the Beothic swung back across Smith Sound to the southern end of Ellesmere Island, where a visit was made at Craig Harbor, which was reached on the evening of Aug. 8.

From that point the ship will continue southward to Dundas Harbor on Devon Island.

KING RETURNS AFTER AIDING BEACHED YACHT

After being absent from Victoria for nearly a month the Pacific Salvage Company's steamer Salvage King returned to her berth in the inner harbor last evening at 9 o'clock. The ship left Victoria on July 15 for Wrangell Narrows where the pleasure craft Oaxaca ran on the rocks on Friday, July 13, with O. Allan Hancock, millionaire owner, and a party of fifteen Los Angeles residents aboard. The King rushed into the disabled ship, nearly on thousand miles away, with all possible speed but the state of the tides prevented her floating the ship until last Thursday. She then took the Oaxaca in tow and arrived in Vancouver yesterday morning at 6 o'clock. A. C. Burdick, managing director of the company, who went over to Vancouver to meet the King, returned to Victoria last evening.

WILL ARRIVE FROM ORIENT ON MONDAY

of the American Mail Line, which will dock at the Rithet Piers here early Monday morning from China, Japan and the Philippines with 300 tons of general cargo for this port and a number of stowage passengers. For Seattle the liner has 4,000 tons of cargo, including 2,500 bales of raw silk, 2,000 bags of mail, about half of which will be left off here. With Captain Michael Jensen on the bridge, the big liner left Yokohama, her last port of call in the Orient, on August 2. She will dock at the Rithet Piers about 7 o'clock.

Outbound for the Orient and the Philippines, the President McKinley, Captain Carey, will sail from this port on Saturday at 6 p.m. The vessel will arrive here at 4 o'clock from Seattle and, after picking up local passengers, cargo and mail, will put to sea en route to Yokohama.

VETERAN CONDUCTOR KILLED

Winnipeg, Aug. 9.—Casper C. Cushman, sixty-year-old veteran conductor of the Canadian Pacific Railways, was fatally injured at Stony Mountain, Man., yesterday when he fell under a freight engine. He died in hospital here last night. The moving engine caught him by the legs and dragged the body for some distance. Mr. Cushman had been in the service of the C.P.R. as a conductor for thirty-five years.

CITY OF VICTORIA RETURNS TO DUTY AFTER DRYDOCKING

After having one of her propeller blades replaced in a Seattle drydock, the Edmonds-Victoria ferry, Company's steamer City of Victoria, returned to her usual run this morning, taking the trip from Edmonds at 9 o'clock and arriving here on schedule at 12:30. The ship, lost one of her blades while proceeding from Victoria to Edmonds yesterday afternoon and immediately after disembarking her big list of passengers at Edmonds left for Seattle, where the necessary repairs were effected during the night.

HUDSON STRAIT AVIATORS WILL RETURN SOUTH

Ottawa, Aug. 9.—Aviators attached to the Hudson Strait expedition have completed their work of making weather observations in the channel and will fly back to Ottawa at the end of August. The five planes in charge of Squadron Leader Lawrence, which come down the eastern shores of James Bay to Moose Factory and then follow the natural waterways here.

Daily reports of fog and ice conditions in the Strait have been made by radio to the Department of Marine and Fisheries for the last year from the flying bases at Port Burwell, Wakeham Bay and Nottingham Island. Last winter was regarded as an average one, and it is believed that future weather conditions may be anticipated from these reports. The channel has been free of ice for some time.

RUSH FOR BOAT ENDS IN CRASH; DRIVER FINED

Rushing through the heart of the city to make boat connections doesn't always pay, S. W. Osborn, taxi-driver, discovered to his cost when he appeared in City Police Court to-day to face a charge of causing the common danger.

Osborn, who was in collision with a New Method Laundry truck at the corner of Courtney and Government Streets on Monday afternoon, was fined $25 by Magistrate Jay.

Captain Reppburn, United Club, gave evidence to show that Osborn was proceeding at a fast rate of speed down Government Street just before the accident. Constable Henry Jarvis described the collision as shown by marks upon the pavement.

In reports of the accident it was stated that Osborn was in a hurry to catch the 4:30 p.m. boat for Seattle, the time of the accident being about 4:25 p.m. The taxi of the laundry truck was slightly damaged in the crash.

Magistrate Jay made pointed comment upon the attempts of reckless drivers to stall their fines when Osborn asked for a few days in which to pay his penalty.

TWO SHIPS IN FROM EUROPE

Noorderdyk and Modavia Dock From European Ports; Cargoes For Victoria

Two freight and passenger liners were in port at Victoria to-day from Britain and European ports. Both had cargoes for discharge at Victoria, before proceeding to Vancouver.

The first ship was the Holland-America liner Noorderdyk, which arrived at the William Head quarantine station at 10:30 a.m. and berthed at the Rithet piers an hour later. She had 700 tons of general European cargo on board when she arrived here, 100 tons of which were left off at Victoria. The ship will load about fifty tons of plank and lathing for Germany before she sails for the Mainland about 10 o'clock this evening.

The second ship, from the United Kingdom was the Donaldson liner Modavia, which arrived at the quarantine station at noon and tied up at the Rithet piers at 12:30 o'clock. She had 110 tons of general cargo for discharge here. She will get away to Vancouver about midnight, after loading cargo for Glasgow and Liverpool. Another ship will make calls at Victoria on the outward voyage.

The Chamberlain Places In Sixth Race To Top Betting Prices For The Day

Bernice E. Overhauls Whole Field to Score Spectacular Victory

Popular Mare Runs Around Field in Stretch in Race of One Mile and One-sixteenth and Stops The Chamberlain From Scoring Real Upset; Only Other Double-figures of Day Paid by Ethel F. $10.55; One-horse Spill But No One Hurt; Good Crowd and Fast Track

Colwood Race Track, Aug. 9.—Ideal weather, a fast track and a good crowd featured the opening of the racing season in Victoria this afternoon. The Colwood track has seldom looked better.

The grueling home-stretch here provided plenty of opportunities for the horses with stout hearts. In most cases horses that were running well backed when the fields headed into the stretch came on to gain the decision. The front runners found the going up the hill a little too much for them and they wilted under the hard going.

An outstanding example of the way the stout horses closed the great gaps in the stretch occurred in the sixth race, when the popular mare, Bernice E., moved up from eighth to snatch the decision in the last furlong. Haven, who had a leg up on the veteran chestnut made her give everything in the run to the wire.

NEARLY AN UPSET

The Chamberlain closed very fast along with Bernice E. and came close to providing a rare old upset. As it was, she hung on to second place all the way from the turn into the stretch and those that held a place ticket on her mount collected $21.45, the top price of the afternoon. St. Angeline broke on top in this race, which was over one mile and a sixteenth. She was displaced at the quarter pole by Pat Mahery, who yielded the lead to Cruizer at the half. Cruizer held on gamely to the three-quarter pole, but could not hold off the challenge of Rob Roy, who had a half-length lead on St. Angeline going into the stretch. Then began the drive which saw the Chamberlain move up, and the other horses that had made the early running fell back. Haven shook Bernice E., which had trailed the field most of the way, and she came on with a furious burst. The Chamberlain, Bernice E. and St. Angeline had a bitter struggle, but it remained for Bernice to have the legs to romp home and collect the decision.

Prices did not provide many thrills as the outsiders were kept in their places and the form players picked them pretty well. Up to the fifth race the highest price of the day was returned by Ethel F., who showed in the fourth race and paid $10.55, with the price returned to the Chamberlain, it was the only double figure.

A WEAK LINK

Gold Chain had a weak link in the second race and took a tumble. Jockey Hughes, who was up, was not injured in the spill.

Red Top came from behind to easily take the honors in the opening fixture to-day. She returned her nose back $7.45 on a $2 pasteboard. The West Hope gelding was well back after the break, but came on fast as the field entered the stretch and had two lengths to spare at the end. Sparrow was second and Ten Barry third. Sparrow jumped into the lead soon after the ponies had left the barrier, but could not hold out under the closing rush of the winner, although taking the place position with ease. Jackson rode the winner.

With a lightning burst of speed in the stretch Norton, the bay horse from the Winter string, with Lyons in the saddle, came through with an easy win in the second, paying $6.50 to win. Norton broke slowly, but the boy had timed the short sprint to a nicety and his mount delivered everything he had in the stretch. Cas Walker, with Pollard up, was second, while Flossie Ross, who led from the barrier, was out-finished by Pollard's mount after an exciting duel for the place. Gold Chain was close behind the leaders at the half-way mark when he fell. Rochester Miss trailed the field by seven lengths.

WON BY A NECK

Miss Fountain gained a neck decision from Glitter Gold in the third, keeping up with the leaders until the stretch, where she uncocked a burst of speed which brought her to the wire in the lead. Palas was in the saddle. After taking the lead from Ormsleigh at the halfway mark, Blue Miss, with length lead on St. Angeline going into the stretch. Then began the drive which saw the Chamberlain move up, and the other horses that had made the early running fell back. Haven shook Bernice E., which had trailed the field most of the way, and she came on with a furious burst. The Chamberlain, Bernice E. and St. Angeline had a bitter struggle, but it remained for Bernice to have the legs to romp home and collect the decision.

Prices did not provide many thrills as the outsiders were kept in their places and the form players picked them pretty well. Up to the fifth race the highest price of the day was returned by Ethel F., who showed in the fourth race and paid $10.55, with the price returned to the Chamberlain, it was the only double figure.

A WEAK LINK

Gold Chain had a weak link in the second race and took a tumble. Jockey Hughes, who was up, was not injured in the spill.

Red Top came from behind to easily take the honors in the opening fixture to-day. She returned her nose back $7.45 on a $2 pasteboard. The West Hope gelding was well back after the break, but came on fast as the field entered the stretch and had two lengths to spare at the end. Sparrow was second and Ten Barry third. Sparrow jumped into the lead soon after the ponies had left the barrier, but could not hold out under the closing rush of the winner, although taking the place position with ease. Jackson rode the winner.

The American victories were accounted for by George Kojan, the sensational back-stroke swimmer, Helen Meany, diving queen and a great American girls' relay team, anchored by Martha Kurella. Records fell in the back stroke, relay and 400-metres.

LORD BALFOUR BACK IN RUSH OF PUBLIC LIFE

Eminent Statesman Cheered When He Appears at Royal Society of Arts

Reuter's Special to The Victoria Times

London (By Mail)—Lord Balfour, owing to ill-health, has been absent from public meetings for many years, and he was most warmly cheered when he entered the Royal Society of Arts to take the chair at the annual meeting of that young society of which he is the president, the British Institute of Philosophical Studies. The afternoon was oppressively hot, but Lord Balfour, using only the refreshment of pencilled notes scribbled on an envelope, spoke for a full half-hour on a most scholarly theme—the issues of perception and induction. He found a text in a foreword contributed to the annual report by Professor Hobhouse, but he confessed that it was no new text, for he had used it himself, at least in part, in his own first contribution to philosophic discussion nearly fifty years ago. Lord Balfour does not think that the great changes wrought by new knowledge of science have lessened the difficulties he wrestled with in "A Defence of Philosophic Doubt." Rather does he incline to the view that those difficulties have increased, and that the need for the work of the Institute, begun only three years ago, will tend to increase. He pictured the day as far off when it might be established that science alone is the only way to truth, and though he recommended that whenever science and common-sense are "at two" the wise man should submit to science, he stoutly maintained that beyond the results of observation and experiment there are truths which cannot be solved except by an appeal to faith.

Metchisin

Metchisin, Aug. 8.—Miss Norah Penton of Brandon, Man., and Miss Peggy Higgs of Albert Head are visiting Mrs. A. D. Ellwood.

Mrs. A. D. Ellwood and her daughter, Beth, are leaving on Thursday for Vancouver, where the latter will visit her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell. On Friday Mrs. Ellwood will be joined by Mrs. C. P. Brown of William Head Quarantine Station, and they will proceed to Banff, where they will spend a holiday with Mrs. Ellwood's sister, Mrs. Jack Wolfe. Mrs. Brown plans to return to Vancouver, where she will remain for a week. Mrs. Ellwood will travel as far East as Winnipeg, visiting friends and relatives at Regina and three places en route.

Miss C. Bertrand visited many friends here last Sunday.

Dr. C. P. Brown of the Quarantine Station entertained the Metchisin Tennis Club at William Head on Monday in honor of Rev. F. Conings of Alert Bay, formerly vicar of Metchisin, who is spending a short vacation as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. F. F. Higgs of Albert Head.

PARK ANIMALS ARE FEARLESS

Wild life conservation measures adopted and enforced in the National Park of Canada have resulted in the wild creatures losing much of their fear of man. It is no uncommon occurrence to encounter wild deer on the streets of Banff townsite, in Rocky Mountain Park, Alberta, while Rocky Mountain sheep graze alongside certain sections of the park highways, undisturbed by the passing motor traffic.

VICTORY OF NELSON'S DAY IS RESTORED

Admiral Sturdee's Campaign Saves Famous Wooden Walls

Lord Nelson's Flagship Again as at Trafalgar

Reuter's Special to The Victoria Times

London (By Mail)—It is perhaps hardly realized that H.M.S. Victory, which the King inspected at Portsmouth recently, is still on the active list of the Royal Navy as the flagship of the Commander-in-Chief at Portsmouth. Her active service may be nominal today, but for sheer durability her career is remarkable enough. She was laid down at Chatham in 1759, launched in 1765, and thus had been afloat for forty years before Trafalgar. Her present happy state of honor and security is a happy contrast to the vicissitudes of her active service. In 1831 she would probably have been broken up but for the intervention of King William IV, and it is only since 1921 that she has been safe from harm in drydock. The long years she had previously spent at moorings off Southsea had nearly rotted the bottom out of her, and a vigorous campaign, led by the late Admiral Sir Doreton Sturdee, was needed to save and restore her. The work of restoration was excellently done, and the Victory to-day is much more like Nelson's flagship than the Victory our grandfathers used to be rowed out from Southsea to visit. The black and white chessboard hull and the huts on deck are all gone, and she is now rigged just as she was during her fighting days. Nelson's cabin, Hardy's cabin, the galley and the wardroom are all as they originally were, and the lower gun deck retains the very planks where stood the barefooted sailors who served the guns at Trafalgar.

PICKS HUBBY—Joan Burroughs, daughter of Edgar Rice Burroughs, the author, was assigned to find somebody who could play "Tarzan" in a screen production of one of her father's books. She picked James Pierce, film "heavy," and work on the picture began. Now she has picked Pierce for herself. They'll be married this Summer.

CITY ASKED TO PAY SUM ON ELEVATOR

Final Installment Preceding Completion of Grain Terminal is Authorized

Expenditures upon construction of the million-bushel grain elevator at Ogden Point docks totaled $561,535.68 up to July 31, C. D. Howe and Company have advised the City Council.

Payment of $64,000.01 on progress estimates for July is recommended, this being the last payment the city will make to Smith Brothers and Wilson, the contractors, until the work is completed and accepted.

The city's holdback on the $500,000 realized from bond sales is $75,000, payment by the city of $64,000.01, bringing the total advanced up to $425,000.

The Panama Pacific Grain Terminals Limited has contributed $69,297 towards the expenditures already made, and the holdback on the contract with Smith Brothers and Wilson now aggregates $64,228.68.

All further construction costs involved in completion of the elevator must be financed by the grain company, which must also provide the difference of $9,228 between the amount now due the contractors and the $75,000 to be paid by the city upon completion of the work.

The progress estimate for July shows that the total expended in that month was $68,905, of which $19,778 was for payroll.

Jewels Should Reflect Your Personality

"Buy your jewels for your personality, not your costume. Wear stones of the size and color that accentuate your good points and mitigate your bad ones, regardless of the mode of the moment."

This advice came from Harriet Keith Forbes, woman jeweller-designer who, among other things, designed a necklace for Mrs. Cecil de la Motte, a fine hand-wrought silverwork, with a gorgeous clear rock crystal ball pendant. "Have you fine eyes? Then make the most of them by wearing large oval beads of slightly lighter hue," she suggested. "Is your complexion a trifle sallow? Then wear green stones—emeralds, jade, peridot, etc.—a diamond person? Then don't wear large dazzling ornaments that obliterate you completely."

She laid down certain rules to follow in jewel-choice:

"Only a pointed chin can stand the firm, hard clasp of a choker."

"Long pendant earrings require a long jaw."

"Very white pearls are trying to all but the fairest skin."

"Aquamarines are a wise choice for silver blondes; amber and yellow topaz for hazel eyes and red hair; turquoise for black hair and blue eyes; rubies for golden hair and skin; amethyst, coral, rose quartz and crystal for nearly everybody, but their mellow tints are especially flattering to mature years."

"The idea that black and white is an appropriate combination for elderly women is all wrong. White is devastating to a faded skin, and black brings out the lines in the face. Color will do much for them, if carefully picked."

Education—An A.B. Isn't the Answer

By OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON

About this college question again. Every time it sticks its head out of the ground we hit it, or used to, until we discovered that the more we banged at it the healthier it grew. And now it is not sticking out one head, but hundreds. That much is settled. There is to be college.

The great public accepts that. But if some of the students with whom I recently have discussed the matter were representative of the great mass of collegians who have boarded trains in the last week or two for their various centres of learning, it seems that not half of them know just exactly why they are going or for what they are going. In the words of one student, "they're just afraid they'll be sorry later if they stop."

I wonder if I may venture a suggestion to colleges and universities. It may fall to earth where someone may pick it up and make use of it. I am too inarticulate on the subject to know how, when, or where to begin revamping the system myself.

A man takes a boy to college. The boy is duly entered, his tuition paid, and the parent drives off. Now the boy doesn't know, and the parent doesn't know, just why the boy is there—what he intends to study or for what work he is to prepare. The boy can't be blamed, for no one has told him; he is too young to have a decided plan of his own. His father doesn't know, because he has never been to college. He has no precise idea of what the boy may learn there.

It seems to me that a lot of it is blind groping. The worst of it is the boy wants to know and the father wants to know, but just how are they to find out? There seems to be little aid in shaping the boy's destiny. Why can't colleges and universities establish centres where parents go beforehand and be enlightened in plain English as to what their children can get if they spend $4,000 on their training? Catalogues that talk in units and credits and academic terms don't mean a thing more to them than the Koran. Even an A.B. at the end of four years isn't the answer.

"They say," remarked the spinster boarder, "that the woman who hesitates is lost."

"Lost is not the proper word for it," growled the fussy old bachelor at the head of the table. "She's extinct!"

"It's Better!" Says Mrs. Mackenzie of Toronto

"My grocer praised Rinso, so I thought I'd try a package and see if it was as good as he said. It's better! Rinso makes such rich, safe suds that when I take the clothes out of the wash they're whiter and newer-looking than ever. Even the most soiled pieces become spotless with only a tiny bit of rubbing. No wonder I have the clothes on the line so early now! Rinso is great for cleaning dishes, floors and sinks, too! No wonder I'm getting all my friends to use it!"

MRS. F. R. MACKENZIE,
147 Sherwood Avenue, Toronto.

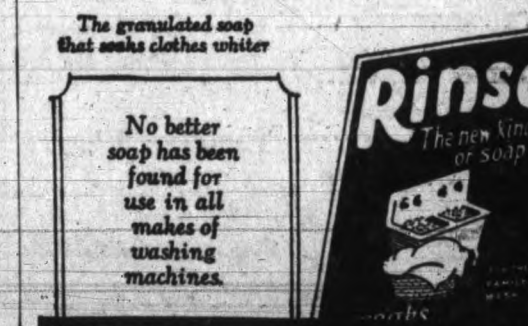

Science gives you a whiter wash—and saves you hours of hard work as well

WHEN Science said, "Here, in Rinso, is a way to make clothes white with no boiling and little or no rubbing," women were skeptical. It seemed too good to be true. But once they tried Rinso they joyfully agreed that science was right. Rinso brought them a glad freedom from wash day toiling and gave them clean, white, fragrantly-fresh clothes such as every woman loves.

Rinso makes rich suds which soak out the dirt and grime. No boiling, just a gentle rub here and there and clothes are whiter than scrubbing can make them. Hours are saved, clothes last longer, work is made lighter.

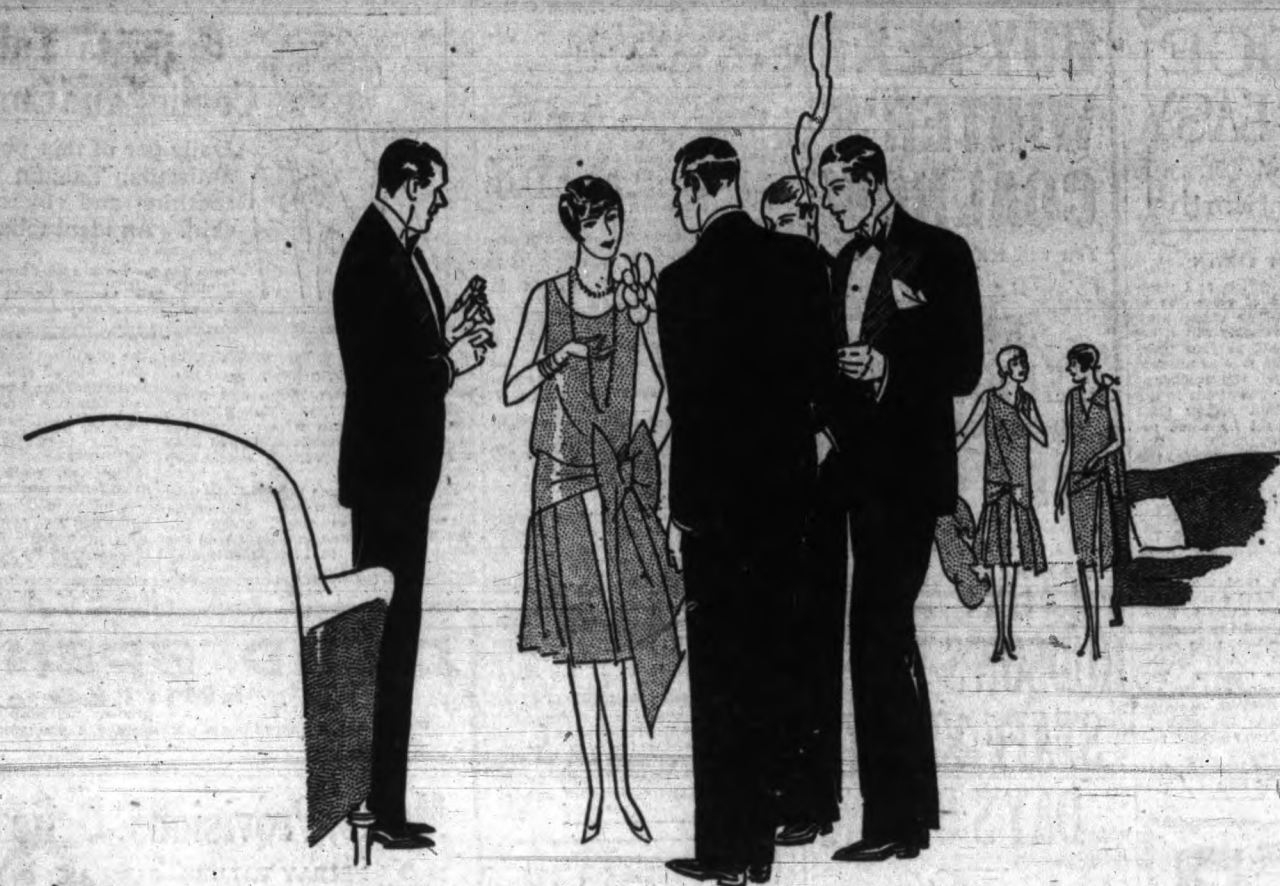

Science is waiting in every package of Rinso to give you the surest wash day help the world has ever known.

Harvest Workers Must Pass Tests

London, Aug. 9.—While there seems little doubt 10,000 British men will be secured for the Canadian harvest fields, still a considerable proportion of the applicants are being rejected. The main reason for rejection is physical condition, all "recruits" having to undergo medical examination.

Conditions at the centres where applicants are received somewhat resemble recruiting in the early days of the World War. The harvesters must conform, in fact, to the highest army physical standard.

Moving picture films of life in Canada are shown in some mining districts to interest audiences.

Ottawa, Aug. 9.—Yesterday 2,000 men had been accepted in connection with the project of the British Government to send harvesters to Canada. A large number are from Scotland and Northern England. On advice from the Canadian Government, only the strongest men are being chosen in view of the nature of the work.

Mail Clerk Given Police Protection

London, Ont., Aug. 9.—J. M. Farrow, the mail clerk who recently identified one of the men charged with robbing the Canadian National mail car on the night of June 19 at the Union Station, is being furnished police protection, it being feared accomplices of the alleged robber may try to do him harm.

In the robbery $120,000 was taken.

U.S. WATERWAY DEBATE GROWS

New York, Aug. 9.—Edward G. Carrington, chairman of the Great Lakes-Hudson Waterway Association, has telegraphed Governor Al. Smith, Democratic candidate for the Presidency of the United States, asking him to debate the waterways question with Herbert Hoover, Republican candidate for the Presidency.

"Mr. Hoover is unqualifiedly supporting the St. Lawrence Waterway, which you have characterized as visionary, absurd and impracticable," Carrington said in his wire.

"Will you debate this with Mr. Hoover, or Henry J. Allen at Madison Square Garden, New York, or at the Coliseum, Chicago, under the auspices of our association?"

Premier Baldwin At Eisteddfod

Treorchy, Wales, Aug. 9.—Premier Stanley Baldwin yesterday wrestled with the Welsh language when he acted as president of the day at the National Eisteddfod. He was given a great ovation by the crowd of 30,000 which heard him, especially when he brought in three Welsh words with some success.

He wound up triumphantly by pronouncing in Welsh the sentiment, "Long Life to the Welsh Language."

In his address, Mr. Baldwin paid tribute to ex-Premier Lloyd George as "the greatest orator in Great Britain," and Rt. Hon. J. H. Thomas, "whose resourcefulness and pertinacity represent the highest qualities of the Welsh race."

Skeleton Found In Old Building

Toronto, Aug. 9.—Covered with the dust and debris of years and shielded from view by a solid brick wall, a human skeleton was found by workers demolishing the old buildings of Trinity College on Queen Street here. It was in a completely sealed room in the basement. That part of the building was at one time used as a sanitarium for liquor addicts, and at another time in connection with a hospital.

MANY HONORED HEROES' MEMORY

Thousands of British World War Veterans Yesterday Shared in Ypres Events

Ypres, Belgium, Aug. 9.—With tears for regret, flowers for remembrance and hymns for praise of sacrifice and example, 15,000 British veterans and their wives and other women relatives yesterday held a memorial service here for the host of their comrades who died in Flanders Fields in the World War.

"O Valiant Hearts" sang the pilgrims—as many of them as could make their voices overcome their sobs. Other hymns and old war-time songs were attempted, but hearts were too full of emotion and memories of the gallant dead were too poignant and the singing was not much in volume.

PEACE DESIRE

"Was it worth while?" asked the Archbishop of York, who is to become Archbishop of Canterbury and Primate of the Church of England this Fall, in addressing the throng. He answered his own question thus: "Yes, a thousand times yes. Through the sufferings and sacrifices of the war there has been won, as never before in human history, a settled will to seek peace and ensure it."

The service was held under the shadow of Menin Gate. The pilgrims gathered around that massive monument to the heroism of the soldiers of the British Empire, coming by train, automobile or on foot along the familiar roads of the great battlefields.

They were, under the leadership of the Prince of Wales and Admiral Earl Jellicoe, head of the British Legion, and their numbers included hundreds of men who were maimed in conflicts in and around this town. The Count of Flanders, son of King Albert of Belgium stood at the side of the Prince and behind them were Marshal Pétain, Gen. Weygand and Gen. Gouraud, Countess Haig, widow of the beloved British Commander-in-Chief, the British Ambassador to Belgium, the Burgomaster of Ypres and the prefect of Lille.

LONG PROCESSION

After the service at the gate, the pilgrims marched in a long procession through the Grand Place, just outside of the ruins of historic Cloth Hall. There the Prince of Wales and the Count of Flanders mounted a dais draped in scarlet and white and stood bareheaded in the bright sunshine. A detachment of Belgian infantry with bands surrounded the dais as a guard of honor.

The French generals, the British officials and clergy stood behind the princes.

Then the procession of pilgrims marched past and while the Prince of Wales took their salute, the veterans gave vent to their emotions in great cheering for him and the Belgian prince.

It took the procession an hour and twenty minutes to pass in review. When the long oration was ended, the Prince of Wales inspected the local headquarters of the Salvation Army and the Y.M.C.A. and then left by motor for Boulogne, whence he departed for London.

The British veterans included 8,000 men and 3,000 women who served in various capacities during the years of the World War.

AEROPLANE CRASH KILLS TWO MEN

Paris, Aug. 9.—Maurice Drouhin, noted French pilot, who was injured in the crash of his tri-motored plane, The Rainbow, at the Orly airfield yesterday, died at 2:15 this morning.

Mechanic Lannet was killed in the crash and Engineer Gionolle and one other, Manuel, were injured. Gionolle seriously.

The disaster occurred when the Rainbow was being put through its final tests before its proposed start on a Paris-New York flight next week.

The big plane, so constructed that all of its essential machinery would be accessible during flight, became a complete wreck, parts of wings, fuselage and wires being strewn for 1,500 yards along the field.

Gionolle was one of two youthful French engineers who designed the plane—the other, Gionolle, being aboard when the crash came.

Lannet and Manuel were both to have been in the crew on the Atlantic flight.

Maurice Drouhin was for a time last summer Charles Levine's pilot when the New Yorker planned a westward transatlantic flight.

For a short time the Levine-Drouhin combination worked smoothly, but soon their relationship was marred, by disagreement and Drouhin's contract finally was cancelled and the flight called off.

Manchuria Receives Japanese Warning

Tokio, Aug. 9.—Alarmed by reports that Manchuria was about to join with the Chinese Nationalist Government at Nanking, Japan yesterday warned the province not to take that step, and told Nanking that "suitable measures" would be initiated unless the Nationalists should recede from their attitude toward the rights of Japanese citizens in China.

Baron Tanaka, Prime Minister, told the cabinet yesterday he had reliable information that Chang Hsueh-shang, military governor of Manchuria, and Chiang Kai-shek, Nationalist military commander-in-chief, had worked out the draft of an agreement to extend the Nanking way into Manchuria.

It was understood here the agreement would grant complete autonomy to Manchuria in its domestic affairs, but give Nanking control of the foreign relations of the province. It was this latter aspect which aroused Tokio to action. Nanking having already notified Japan of its abrogation of the commercial treaty granting extra-territorial rights to Japan. Japan's claim that this abrogation was illegal had been ignored by Nanking.

ACTING PREMIER

London, Aug. 9.—The temporary withdrawal from active life of Sir Austen Chamberlain, Foreign Secretary, through illness, leaves Premier Baldwin rather a delicate problem for settlement on his return to town from the country to-morrow. He will have to appoint an Acting Premier for his holiday in France, where he will spend the rest of the summer. By all ordinary rules the Acting Premier should be Rt. Hon. Winston Churchill, Chancellor of the Exchequer. The Manchester Guardian declares, however, that Winston Churchill is "not trusted or accepted by the Conservative Party."

The council will be communicated with when the question, has been reviewed by the railway commissioners.

A letter from the Municipality of Esquimalt submitting a resolution dealing with a proposed amendment to the Municipal Act in regard to the definition of "improvements," and asking that this be endorsed by the City of Duncan, was received.

Milk is Said To Be Sold at Cost

Vancouver, Aug. 9.—"As the present time there is too much competition in dairying. Many of the large dairies are selling milk at cost," declared Alderman H. R. Almond, president of the City Dairy and Produce Company Limited, when he gave evidence at the Vancouver milk inquiry yesterday afternoon. The witness said he was in favor of narrowing down the field of competition to two or three firms because large scale operations were more satisfactory than small. He opposed a monopoly and absolute control. "Absolute control might improve the quality of the milk," he said, "but I question if it would improve the service."

MOTOR TRAFFIC REGULATIONS

IN LOS ANGELES THERE IS ONE motor car to every three persons, which works out at one car at least to every family. As the regulations controlling motor car traffic and the penalties attached to them in that city are very drastic, it is obvious that car owners are as anxiously concerned for the protection of life and property in this respect as those who do not own cars. Similar measures are in force in most of the other important communities of the republic, and motorists there are now educated to a rigid observance of motor regulations. Whatever deficiencies may be apparent in United States cities in other aspects of law observance and enforcement, motor car regulations and enforcement leave nothing to be desired.

In this Canada can profitably take a leaf from her neighbor's book, and this is particularly true of British Columbia. Last year we were very much in the lead in the percentage of automobile fatalities among the provinces of Canada. The unfavorable showing was due very largely to the laxity of traffic regulations in our principal communities. Fortunately this disability is being overcome by the authorities. The adoption of arterial highways in Victoria at the instance of the Police Commission already has been justified by results. In fact, there was a marked improvement in traffic control at dangerous intersections immediately the arterial highway system was adopted, and the Police Commissioners should be supported in their endeavors to extend this system.

There are still a number of highway intersections where there have been numerous motor car accidents where these safeguards are required. There is no earthly reason why Victoria should not be known abroad as much for its control of motor traffic as it is for the manner in which it protects life and property in other respects. Up to recent times our reputation has been quite the reverse; motorists have felt much safer in Seattle, a city with half a million people, than they have been in Victoria.

PACIFIC COAST PORTS LEAD

IN THE CROP YEAR ENDING LAST month 79,000 bushels of Canadian grain were shipped to the markets of the world through Canadian Atlantic ports. In the same period 88,000,000 bushels of Canadian grain were shipped through the ports of British Columbia—Vancouver and Prince Rupert. This statement was made by Mr. W. Lloyd Craig, retiring chairman of the grain exchange division of the Vancouver Merchants Exchange, at the annual meeting just held.

These facts are interesting and important in themselves. They require very little explanation. They show in a most convincing manner what progress has been made by the ports of this province in a very remarkably short time. Six years ago the port of Vancouver had elevator accommodation for 1,250,000 bushels. Within the next four months there will be accommodation in that city for 1,000,000 bushels, while the capacity of the three ports, Vancouver, Victoria and Prince Rupert, will be something like 14,000,000 bushels.

It was predicted some years ago, of course, that Vancouver and Victoria were destined to figure largely in the distribution of Canadian grain to the markets of the world, and especially to the Orient. Vancouver has more than exceeded expectations; Prince Rupert also has played an important part, while in the not distant future this port will be getting its share of that business. Nor was it to be supposed that, notwithstanding our ice-free water, the western outlet would put the eastern outlet in the shade as far as this traffic was concerned; but even this has come to pass. The Pacific Coast ports now take pride of place.

Mr. Craig did not overlook an important point in his remarks at the annual meeting to which we have referred. He declared that the equalization of freight rates had been a highly-beneficial factor in the growth of the westward movement of grain. The businessmen of the Province are aware of that fact. They have benefited in many ways from the vigorous fight which the Government of British Columbia waged from 1921 onwards. Had it not been for the victories it won in this field, Vancouver would not now be celebrating its supremacy over Montreal in this regard.

INTER-EMPIRE TRADE

INTER-EMPIRE TRADE IS A SUBJECT which a large number of Conservative newspapers in this country like to discuss in the most enthusiastic manner as long as it takes only an abstract form. As long as there does not appear any sort of insistent demand that we buy more commodities from Great Britain, or any other of the Dominions, it is all right; it has the proper imperial ring about it. One Conservative daily, for instance, is interested in the proposed tour of Canada next year of a party of sixty sales managers from Great Britain. It argues, and quite reasonably, that as a result of this tour, and the changed methods of merchandising which no doubt will follow it, Canadians will buy more of the products of Britain and less of the products of the United States.

This would cause a very desirable change in the trade balances between Canada and the neighboring republic and the United Kingdom. At the present time we sell more than twice as much to Great Britain as we buy from her and buy a good deal more from her neighbor on the south than we sell to her. But the point to be borne in mind in any discussion of our trade with the United Kingdom is that as soon as it is suggested that the British exporter be given greater facility for entering this market a certain section of our high protectionist element promptly ditches its showy imperialism and says "no" to any suggestion that the British Preference be extended.

In the last Federal election campaign we were told by Mr. Meighan that if he were elected to govern the country, one of the first things he would do would be to abolish this concession to the British trader until the British Government had agreed to give Canadian goods similar treatment; until, in other words, the British taxpayer had been compelled to pay more for his food and other commodities. Inter-empire trade from the Conservative standpoint, therefore, is a nice subject to discuss; as long as it remains fairly well in the abstract.

PREMIER KING ANSWERS CRITICS

WE MAY ASSUME THAT PREMIER King feels he is trespassing upon the patience of an audience when he takes even a few minutes to refute the charge that his Government is discouraging migration from Great Britain; but this pernicious propaganda is being persisted in so assiduously by his critics that it is perhaps just as well he should explain what is being done and what it is costing the Dominion to attract migrants from the British Isles.

In a speech at Davidson, Saskatchewan, the other day, therefore, the Prime Minister put the whole situation in the simplest possible form. He told his audience that the Dominion Government was spending $16.71 for every immigrant secured from the British Isles—and Canada drew a little more than 53,000 last year—while the amount paid to secure continental European immigration was only eleven cents apiece. It also should be noted that this country draws more British migrants than any other British Dominion, that in no single year in the last quarter of a century has Canada drawn less than Australia, and that while the inflow to the southern Commonwealth declined last year, the migration to this country increased by several thousands over the previous year.

If this statement of fact does not convince the critics of the Government's immigration policy as it affects British settlers, it is simply because they prefer to misrepresent the case in the hope of making political capital.

WHAT OTHER PAPERS SAY

VIKINGS OF ALL LANDS

By Bruce Catton

Gen. Umberto Nobile's polar flight, designed to rebound to the greater glory of Fascist Italy, seems to be turning into an exploit which provides greater glory for Communist Russia, which is everything that Fascist Italy is not.

If it were not for the Russians it is safe to say that Nobile himself would be the only survivor of the luckless expedition. A ship named for one of Bolshevik leaders, Krasin, has snatched seven men from the grip of death and restored them to the service of Fascism's leader, Mussolini.

This, to be sure, doesn't prove anything about the respective merits of these two divergent social philosophies. It does re-emphasize one thing, though, a platitude that we find easy to forget; the old, hackneyed truth that differences of nationality and class have a way of becoming insignificant when men come up against the fundamental realities of life.

There are men who are fitted to stay at home and do the uneventful work of the world, and there are men who were made for daring adventures, hair-breath chances and flirtation with death. Up on the world's highest rim, where desolate ice fields stretch out like the empty plains of a forgotten planet, there has been unfolding an epic tale of courage, hardihood and peril. Some men, vanishing into the void, have been seen no more; others, given up for lost, have been caught up at the very last by adventurers to whom the menacing northland was but a paradise ground for the primitive virtues of daring and endurance.

Russian, Italian, Norwegian, Swedish, French—the limits of nation and class were transcended. They were all Vikings. That strange human urge to forget oneself for the sake of another gripped them all.

All of us are the gamblers by this. There is never too much unity in this world. The vision of brotherhood is all too easily forgotten. The time may not be far off when, in the unpredictable shift of things, certain of these men will be at one another's throats, crying out battle shouts about God, home and fatherland; yet, for the moment, they have clasped hands—and we have had a vision.

Complaints that the entire Italia expedition was a useless waste seem petty in the face of this. Of course, it was worth it. Victories are rare. The world has more brave and good men than we dream. It can always spare a few if their deaths will light once more the glowing altar fires of unity and concord. Those men with unpronounceable names—Lunberg, Chuchnovsky and the rest—are outsiders on the great advance, which is often slowed up but which never stops.

They all were Vikings. And they demonstrated something the Vikings never knew—that all men may yet be brothers.

A THOUGHT

Prove all things; hold fast that which is good.—1 Thess. v. 21.
All are of the race of God and have in themselves good.—Baileys.

BRIDGE MADE EASY

by W.W. Wentworth

THE RULE OF ELEVEN

Simple in its application and readily learned, the rule of eleven is of immeasurable value as a trump play. Understanding it thoroughly will effect surprising improvements in your playing. Succinctly stated, it is as follows:

Subtract from eleven the number of the card that is led. The result is the total number of cards higher than that which is led, held by three remaining players.

As an example of this principle, the following hands are depicted, the declaration being no trump:

Dummy holding—clubs J 8 3.

East holding—clubs A 10 6.

West holding—diamonds K 9 7.

West holding—clubs Q 4 2; leads club 2.

Leading the fourth card from the top, the usual lead against a no-trump declaration, West leads the club 2. This card is higher than the club 3 held by the dummy, and the club 4 held by the declarer. The dummy being exposed, East and the declarer both observe that it contains three cards higher than the club 2. That leaves a total of six cards divided between East and the declarer.

HUDSON'S BAY STAFF ENJOY DAY'S OUTING

Five Hundred Gather at Deep Cove Grounds for Annual Picnic

R. Addie Wins Sports Cup For Fourth Successive Year

Employees and their wives and friends to the number of 500 attended the seventh annual picnic of the Hudson's Bay Company Employees' Association at Deep Cove yesterday. The staff was granted a full holiday for the occasion and turned out in full force to enjoy a complete sports programme at the popular peninsula resort.

Ideal weather favored the outing, the picknickers escaping the blazing sun of recent weeks while the atmosphere was warm enough for swimming.

Tailcoys and private automobiles left the Hudson's Bay store at 9:30 a.m. arriving at Deep Cove at an hour later.

The committee in charge started the sports programme almost immediately, a softball game between the married men and single men opening the day's events. After a thrilling tussle this was won by the married men, 7-6.

DELIGHTFUL LUNCH
The children's sports followed the softball, after which the whole gathering sat down to a delightfully served lunch in the Deep Cove grounds. B. L. Bond, head chef of the Hudson's Bay store, and his staff were responsible for the excellent catering and praise would be loud for the time manner in which arrangements were handled. The whole gathering was seated at the same time in equal comfort.

The sports programme occupied the whole afternoon following luncheon, many and varied events being staged.

For the fourth year in succession, R. Addie won the Governor's Cup in the sports, running up a total of seventeen points in the various events. Besides several of the mixed races, he captured the swimming event, the 100-yard dash and sack race. S. Raven was the runner-up with seven points.

Last year Addie was awarded the Governor's cup outright having won it for three successive years.

LADY WINNER
Miss K. Preststone headed the ladies who competed in the sports, taking the 100-yard race, second in the sack race and places in some of the mixed events for a total of eight points. Miss E. Woodley was runner-up with seven points.

Following supper, which was served under the trees, prizes were presented to the winners by Mrs. A. J. Watson.

Prizes were donated by the following: A. J. Watson, Mrs. Abbott, Miss Grimason, Mr. Horne, Mr. Banner, Mr. McElnay, Mr. Minnie, Mr. Wollard, Mr. Bond, Mr. Wilkinson, Mr. Hunter, Mr. Smith, Mr. Griffin, W. H. TRAFFIC REGULATIONS

To the Editor:—The letter in last night's Times regarding "Traffic Regulations" by W. E. Peirce is quite to the point. There are always suggestions that could be brought forward in dealing with the "traffic problems" that would be equally effective as Mr. Peirce's suggestion, but one must not forget that the prime factor in dealing with this question is not exactly punishment, but finance or severance. One must bear in mind that everything is secondary to the money obtained from this source, hence the large number of car owners that have been fined already.

of several hymn writers of Wales, including Ann Griffiths, Williams, Pantycelyn, Rev. Evan Evans and Archbishop Edmund Fry. Howell Harris and Peter Williams were pointed out as great educationists who had done a great deal to promote scholarship among the Welsh.

Professor Williams outlined the lives of some of these writers. He recited the circumstances under which the New Testament was translated into the Welsh language in 1770, mentioning the disturbed conditions of the time which caused the zealous student who undertook the work to conceal himself in a chimney while working.

Social, political, religious and artistic life in Wales were discussed by Prof. Williams, who indicated something of the great influence of revivals at different times.

R. T. Roberts of Portland and Mrs. Lewis and Mrs. Williams rendered vocal solos in Welsh during the evening, accompanied by Mrs. Rhonwen Mason.

"GATE-CRASHING" INCIDENT STIRS LONDON SOCIETY

Countess of Ellesmere Publicly Denounces Uninvited Guest Who Replies in Press

Matters have reached a climax in Mayfair over the practice of "gate-crashing" with the publication by Lady Ellesmere of the names of uninvited guests who attended the ball she gave recently in London. For some time the London newspapers have been publishing articles denouncing the practice of those members of society who attend functions uninvited, thus, according to one prominent hostess, "consuming food which was intended for invited guests and generally proving an obnoxious problem."

POPULAR MEMBER OF CHOIR BRIDE OF "Y" WORKER

Miss Mildred Redman and George Porteous United at Metropolitan Church

One of the prettiest weddings of the season was solemnized last night at Metropolitan United Church when Miss Mildred Redman, only daughter of Mrs. J. E. Redman of 2603 Douglas Street, became the bride of Mr. George Porteous, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Porteous of 1000 Douglas Street.

The ceremony was performed under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A. staff of Porteous of Saskatoon, Sask.

The bride, who entered the church on the arm of her brother, Rev. R. A. Redman of United Church, Port Kaituma, as the choir commenced the hymn "The Voice That Breathed Over Eden," looked radiantly lovely. She wore a wedding dress of white georgette with a train of white georgette and a string of pearls, the gift of her mother. Her shower bouquet was of white flowers.

The bride was attended by Miss Dorothy Parsons and Miss Alva Downard, carrying bouquets of sweet peas in pastel shades and carnations. They were followed by the bridesmaids, who were dressed in white georgette with a train of white georgette and a string of pearls, the gift of their mothers. The bridesmaids carried bouquets of white flowers.

The groom was supported by his brother, Mr. T. Porteous of Saskatoon, Sask. During the reading of the service, Mr. Porteous played the wedding music and while the register was being signed the choir, of which the bride was a member, sang "O Perfect Love." The ushers were Mr. Norman Redman of Vancouver and Mr. Hermon Williams of Victoria.

After the ceremony the reception was held at the home of the bride's mother, 2603 Douglas Street, where a buffet supper was served in a color scheme of yellow and white. A three-tiered wedding cake centred the serving table at which Mrs. McComb and Mrs. Parsons presided.

The bride's mother, attired in a gown of crepe de Chine in shade of periwinkle blue, was assisted in seating by Mr. Porteous. The bride's mother, attired in a gown of crepe de Chine in shade of periwinkle blue, was assisted in seating by Mr. Porteous.

woman doctor on the school staff. She said parents often asked for the address of a woman doctor in their own district, and that it was often difficult to find such a doctor. Another teacher endorsed this.

Defeat Of Carrick In Olympic Boxing Proves Big Upset

Sensational Young Light-heavyweight From Toronto Loses Decision to Avendane, of Argentina, in the Quarter-finals; Vincent Glionna, Also of Toronto, Passes Out in Bantamweight Class, Making Sixth Canadian to Be Eliminated

Amsterdam, Aug. 9.—Don Carrick, of Toronto, was outpointed by Avendane, Argentina, in the quarter-finals of the Olympic light-heavyweight boxing division here to-day.

The Argentine won the second and third rounds by a substantial margin after holding Carrick even in the first.

The result was a surprise, as the Toronto boxer was considered one of the most promising prospects for the light-heavyweight title.

Vincent Glionna, Toronto, bantamweight, lost on points to Isaacs, of South Africa, in a bout at the Olympic boxing tournament to-day. Six Canadian boxers have now been eliminated.

SMILLIE WINS AGAIN

Ray Smillie, of Toronto, advanced another round in the 147-pound class of the Olympic boxing tournament to-day when he outpointed Uda, of Japan, after three fiercely fought rounds.

JAP WANTED KNOCKOUT

Cheers greeted the Canadian and Japanese boxers when they entered the ring to-day. Smillie boxed smartly from the opening gong, evidently trying to land heavily with his left. The Japanese upped wildly during a mixup in the centre of the ring, but Smillie retaliated with right and left to the head. They appeared to be evenly matched.

Uda danced around seeking an opening when the second round began and Smillie met him with right jab to the face. A mixup occurred in the centre of the ring, the Toronto boxer having a margin of superiority in the exchanges.

TIRE UNDER FACE

The opening of the third round also saw the Japanese dancing around, but failing to find an opening in Smillie's defence. He went in close, receiving as much as he gave. Both boxers jabbed fiercely to the face for a few moments, using their lefts. Smillie began using rights and lefts to the body near the close of the round. Both were tiring during the mixup in the centre of the ring, when the gong sounded.

Amsterdam, Aug. 9.—Torchy Feden, Victoria cyclist, who competed in the Olympic cycling events, suffered a spill while competing for the Grand Prix at the Hague last night, only a day after racing in the Olympic road race. He was cut and bruised from his right ankle to his shoulder.

Feden, along with Lew Rider and Doc Morien, Toronto, the trainer, will go to Cologne, Berlin, Warsaw, Budapest and Paris, to compete in various events during the rest of the month. They also will ride against the English team in London on September 11.

GEOGHEGAN TO TWIRL TO-NIGHT

Sons Will Trot Out New Hurler in Game Against Eagles

Sons of Canada and Eagles will engage in a Senior Amateur League baseball game to-night at the Royal Athletic Park, starting at 6:15 o'clock.

The game will be given an added attraction by the fact that Norman Geoghegan, the Sons' new twirler, will make his initial appearance. He performed in one game last season and on his showing then appeared to be a first class pitcher.

The Eagles will most likely use Roy Baker against the league champions. Last week he turned back the Sons in great style and is confident of being able to turn the trick a second time.

JOE ROSS WINS DIVING TITLE

Kelowna, B.C., Aug. 9.—Kelowna's twenty-second annual regatta and water sports got off to a good start to-day with favorable weather and a record number of entries on hand.

Johnny Bayley, of Vancouver, was defeated in the mile swim by Henry Murdoch, of Kelowna. The young interior star won by fifteen yards. Joe Ross, of Victoria, won the fancy diving.

CANADIANS WIN HEAT IN RELAY SWIMMING RACE

First Home in 800-Metre Swim With Great Britain in Second Place

U.S. Team Wins Heat and Sets New Olympic Record; Spain's Bad Time

Amsterdam, Aug. 9.—Canada won the second elimination heat of the 800 metres relay in the Olympic swimming to-day. Britain was second. Both teams qualified for the finals.

The United States won the first heat. Japan was second, Sweden third and Argentina fourth and last.

The time of the United States was 9 minutes 38-45 seconds, a new Olympic record.

Hungary won the third elimination heat in 9:45 3-5, and Spain was second.

TWO TEAMS DISQUALIFIED

Germany and Italy finished second and third, respectively, in the third heat, but were disqualified because the swimmers leaped into the water to relieve their comrades before the latter touched the side of the pool and finished their 200 metres.

Spain's time of 11 minutes 50 seconds was the worst turned in of any of the thirteen teams competing in the three heats, but they qualified for the finals nevertheless.

The United States women's relay team won the first heat of the 400 metres event. Holland was second and both will appear in the finals later this afternoon.

Great Britain won the second and last elimination heat in the 400 metres relay for women. Germany was second and both teams qualified for the finals. Britain's time was 5 minutes 16 3-5 seconds.

Amsterdam, Aug. 9. (By W. H. Ingram, Canadian press staff correspondent).—Miss Dorothy Prior of Toronto, the only girl swimmer from Canada at the Olympic Games, is eliminated from competition in her specialty, the 200-metre breast stroke swim. She was fourth in her heat. All the United States team swimmers in this event also were defeated in their heats, including the redoubtable Agnes Geraghty, who was 1984 champion. The finalists are all husky Dutch and German girls.

Joe Wright Gets Rest On Eve Of Great Test With U. S. In Final

Famous Canadian Sculler Who Has Been in Eight Grueling Races Since Last Thursday, Finally Gets a Chance to Recuperate; United States Pair Win Way Into Final by Defeating Austrians

Amsterdam, Aug. 9.—Joe Wright Jr. and Jack Guest of Toronto, Canada's doubles sculls crew, had a good rest to-day and will be ready for the battle of their lives when they meet Charles McIlvaine and Paul Costello of the United States for the Olympic doubles championship to-morrow afternoon.

The Canadian pair were fortunate in drawing a bye to-day, while the United States couple defeated Australia, the only other semi-finalists.

LOOK FOR GRUELLING RACE

Everyone here expects the race to furnish as gruelling a battle as the one between Toronto Argos and the University of California in the eights yesterday, in which the Argos won by a half-length.

To-day was Joe Wright's first holiday from sculling since last Wednesday, when he and Jack Guest had eight races altogether in the singles and doubles since the events started last Thursday, and the day off should be of great benefit to the young holder of the Diamond Sculls.

The Americans' time to-day in beating Australia was 7 minutes 22-5 seconds.

The Swiss four-oared shell, with coxswain, beat Poland by three lengths in 7:14 2-5 and entered the finals against Italy.

The Canadian double scullers, who have a bye in the finals, rowed the 200-metre course in 7:28 2-5.

These were the only events scheduled to-day.

Finals in all the seven Olympic classes, will be rowed to-morrow.

GOOD PRELIMS ON FIGHT CARD

Lively Bouts Should Be Seen in Leading Up to Lake-Fielding Scrap

Considerable interest is being displayed by the fans in the preliminary bouts which Joe Bagley has arranged for his show at the Tillicum Club Saturday evening.

The semi-windup contest between Danny Pastore and Stoker H. Johnson promises to be a real battle. This will be the second time these fighters have met. At their first encounter a few weeks back Pastore won a close decision after four rounds of fast milling. Since that time the H.M.S. Durban fighter has engaged in a couple of bouts and has been working out daily with Stoker Lake. According to word received Johnson is a much improved fighter and his friends look for him to win from Pastore Saturday night.

ALBIE MEETS TOUGH BOY

Albie Davies is billed for tough competition in Able Seaman P. Webster, who is reported to be an aggressive fighter with a heavy wallop. The sailors expect he will put a crimp in the local boy's record.

Tim Keist meets a clever boxer in Stoker Thomas. The sailor appeared against Megallanes of Seattle, at the show here a few weeks ago and, after giving the Filipino a boxing lesson for three rounds, had the misfortune of running into a wild swing and was unable to continue.

The curtain raiser will bring together B. Jennings of the Royal Canadian Navy, a native of Calgary and the Duke and Duchess of Cornwall and York, and to qualify for the $50, $25 and $20 money prizes.

Lieut. R. H. Jenner, Regina Rifle Club, had a score of 67.

COURTENAY TO PERFORM HERE IN PLAY-OFF

Will Oppose Capitals Saturday in First Game of Series For Island Ball Title

Up-islanders Have Strong Nine; Forbes and McKee Will Be Opposing Pitchers

In the first game of the play-off series for the championship of the Vancouver Island Baseball League the Victoria Capitals will meet Courtenay at the Royal Athletic Park on Saturday afternoon, commencing at 3 o'clock. "Allie" McGregor will be the umpire.

Keen interest is being taken in the game and one of the largest crowds of the season is expected to be on hand. These teams have engaged in two games this season and gained an even break, with one victory and defeat apiece. The Capitals won the game in Victoria by a 12-10 score, while Courtenay won the game on their home grounds by a 5-0 score.

EVENLY MATCHED

The teams are very evenly matched and the game should be a nip and tuck affair from start to finish. The second game of the series will be played in Courtenay on August 19. Should a third game be necessary, it will be played in Nanaimo. The winner of this series will meet the Mainland champions for the British Columbia championship.

Norm Forbes, star hurler of the Capitals, will take the mound on Saturday. He is in first-class pitching form and his teammates are banking on him to turn in a victory.

McKee will be Courtenay's choice for the first game. He beat the Capitals in the game played Up-island, but was knocked out of the box in the game played in Victoria. He has lots of speed and may give the Victoria team plenty of trouble.

The teams will be as follows: Capitals: 1st, H. Cummins, 2nd, McKee, 3rd, Minnie, 3rd; Wachter, 1st; Oatman, C.F. Dunn, P.

Courtenay: Downey, C. McKee, P. Dickson, 1st; J. Cummins, 2nd; Hunden, 3rd; Harris, 3rd; Mellard, 1st; Robinson, C.F.; Stant, P.

CUPID PROVES CAUSE OF GENE QUITTING RING

Tunney May Lose Million Dollars By Retiring But He Picks an Heiress

Miss Lauder to Wed Champion in Late Autumn or Winter

South Bristol, Maine, Aug. 9.—Gene Tunney, whose retirement as heavyweight champion is estimated to have cost him $1,000,000 or more in potential ring earnings, is to marry the grand-daughter of one of the early Pittsburgh millionaires.

His engagement to Miss Mary Josephine Rowland Lauder, grand-daughter of George Lauder, one of the organizers of the Carnegie Steel Company and a cousin of Andrew Carnegie, was announced yesterday by Mrs. George Lauder Jr., his fiancée's mother, from her summer home here.

The marriage will take place in New York in the late autumn or winter. Tunney is with his fiancée and her family at the Summer home, at John's Island.

HASN'T DONE BAD

The announcement confirmed reports, current since he announced his retirement from the ring on July 1st after defeating Tom Heeney, that a forthcoming marriage was the real reason for his retirement. Since he won the championship three years ago, Tunney has earned approximately $2,000,000.

Miss Lauder is the daughter of the late George Lauder Jr., prominent yachtman of ten years ago, who inherited a fortune from his father and increased it during his lifetime. Her family is listed in the social register.

NINE YEARS OLDER

She is tall and dark, a striking brunette, as compared to Tunney, who is fair. She is a Episcopalian. He is a Roman Catholic. Miss Lauder is twenty-one years old and first met Tunney when she was sixteen. Tunney is thirty years old.

The fight between Tunney and Heeney was really won by Dan Cupid, although Tunney was given a technical knockout. Soon after the fight Heeney announced his marriage and new Tunney has taken the count.

McGraw Buzzes Along But No One Seems To Know How He Does It

New York Giants Continue Sensation in the National League, But They Must Play Four Doubleheaders With Boston Braves Next Month, and This Is Tough Assignment at This Stage of Race;

Although St. Louis Cards Are Favorites Giants May Have Big Say

Nobody knows how John McGraw is doing it, but there he is with a record of nineteen victories and five defeats in the first half of his campaign against Western clubs.

The New York team alone of all the Eastern defenders, bettered the 500 mark in the Western invasion which closed yesterday. They scored thirteen victories and suffered only four defeats—765 per cent baseball.

Anything approaching that pace in the twenty-seven remaining games against the Western clubs, together with a normal pace against the East, would bring Mr. McGraw in for some very serious consideration along about next September 30.

The St. Louis Cardinals, however, must remain favorites for the National League flag, so long as they play a steady game. Cardinal pitching again had an off-day at the Polo Grounds yesterday, when Sherdel and Haid took a beating which netted the home team a 10-5 victory.

CARDS' LEAD REDUCED

The success of the Giants' arms in hand-to-hand fighting with the leaders reduced the margin of the Cardinals to four and one-half games.

The fly in John McGraw's ointment is that he must play eight games against the Braves next four days on September 10, 11, 12 and 13, and that is no bargain at any stage of the game, even against the Braves. McGraw, after all, will have to call on some inexperienced pitchers in the double-header epidemic.

After posing as contenders through two-thirds of the season Brooklyn finally have assumed their normal position with every assistance from the thoughtful Pirates. Ray Kremer surprised himself with a good game yesterday, as the Pirates fought through to their third one-run victory in Brooklyn in two days and their first straight in the east. The score was 4 to 3.

PHILLIES TAKE PAIR

While the Robins were settling firmly into sixth place, just above the Braves and the Phillies, a miracle was being performed at Philadelphia. The Phillies were cleaning up their fourth straight against McCarthy's ex-contenders, the Chicago Cubs, 4 to 3. The Cincinnati Reds ran their string of losses to eight straight by permitting the Braves to win both games of a doubleheader at Boston 6 to 3 and 12 to 1.

The American League teams were engaged in traveling or in exhibitions engagements. Not content to let a day go by in peace, the Yankees lost to Albany 3 to 2, while the Athletics were winning 11 to 8 in ten innings at Birmingham.

B.C. Team Disposes of Alberta For Third Straight Victory

Sparks Best Scorer; Wenman Does Well; Alberta Falls Badly

Winnipeg, Aug. 9.—Cricketers from British Columbia gained their third successive victory in the Western Canada Cricket Association match here yesterday when they defeated Alberta by 108 runs, the scores being 181 to 73. Incidentally this was the third defeat for Alberta, and now, following their splendid display by Robinson, and ten runs later Sparks was bowled by Muter.

In a slow-scoring game, Saskatchewan won a well-merited victory from Manitoba, 88 to 71, mainly due to the strong attack of the visiting players. Their bowlers were in great form and received excellent support.

SCORED FAST AT START

British Columbia won the toss and started out to get runs in a very rapid manner. At the interval for lunch they had scored 100 for three. Sparks, Wenman 37, and Bullen 21. The first wicket fell at 74, Wenman going out to a nice catch by Robinson. At 122 Bullen was bowled by Muter, and ten runs later Sparks was bowled by Muter.

After lunch, Remnant and Rivers stayed together until 138 had been posted on the telegraph board. Remnant going out to Muter and Rivers being caught by the same man off Robinson. From then on no one stayed long enough to do anything, the remaining six batsmen making only nine runs.

ALBERTA OUT FAST

Alberta fared none too well. Higgs played a nice free game, scoring rapidly for his 35, placing the ball to all parts of the field. Later on in the innings, Timms and Muter staged a nice partnership, making 24 runs, the former being undefeated for 13, the latter making 11. The 13 men could not gather fifteen runs between them, Rivers, Peters and Bullen being in deadly form.

T.V. Eleven Surprise With Victory Over Wednesday Cricket Leaders

Another surprise was sprung in the Wednesday Cricket League yesterday when the Tracey-Verrall eleven, tail-enders, rose and smashed the Tillicums, the Tillicums were anxious for a win as it would have given them the league championship. They will now have to wait a little longer for the honor.

The match was a light scoring affair, the bowlers having command of the situation all the way. The Tillicums had a chance to win in the second innings, but a couple of absentees left them short-handed to carry on at the bat.

Richest Indians Prepare For Day When Oil Fails

Chief Fred Lookout and his wife

Pawhuska, Okla., Aug. 9.—The Ojibwa Indians—wealthiest people in the world, despite the fact they are among the most primitive, have just elected a new chief in an effort to modernize themselves.

He is Chief Fred Lookout, sixty-seven, a full-blood Ojibwa and for many years a picturesque figure in tribal affairs who believes in doing things the way the white man does them. He succeeds old Chief Bacon Rind, a conservative standstill.

Bacon Rind had been content to sit back and accept the millions that pour into the tribal funds yearly from the Ojibwa oil fields, little caring about the future. Chief Lookout foresees the day when the Ojibwa oil wells will be no more and wants to prepare his people to meet the new conditions.

In agriculture, he places the hope for perpetuation of his tribe and is urging his people to adopt the white man's methods.

"And too many of my people intermarry with white people," he laments in broken English. "I want Ojibwas to marry each other and keep the tribe from dying out. I want my people to show our white brothers we can live on homesteads and run our farms good. Ojibwas will be better off doing that

CHAMPIONSHIP TAKES TOLL OF ENERGY

It is hard to appreciate just what toll of nervous energy a championship can take, especially if you happen to be one who has a chance to win up to the last few holes. Farrell himself furnished a good example this year when he allowed himself to be ousted to play in the Kansas City Open on the day after finishing at Olympia Fields. After averaging two better than fours for seventy-two holes at Chicago, he found himself, nine strokes behind the leader after two rounds at Kansas City. Almost anyone else would have been nineteen strokes behind.

CALLING ON RESERVE

When a person decides to diet and begins to fast, the first substance called on is the reserve substance called fat and it is then that a loss in weight will begin to occur. The length of time a person can fast without harm, Dr. Rose emphasizes, is practically determined by the amount of reserve fat that is present in the body.

Watts Gun recently attempted to win three tournaments in a space of a little over three weeks. He won the Southern Amateur, but was beaten in the second round while defending his National Intercollegiate title. Trying hard and playing well, Watts made an excellent bid, but three weeks is too long to keep going at high speed.

The man who wants to do well at every appearance must arrange for a little rest, a change of scenery in the meantime. Too much of the same thing, and a continuous strain will break down the game of the very best of them.

Fat Projects Organs And is Reserve Fuel

By DR. MORRIS FISHER

In the normal human being there is a moderate amount of fat widely distributed over the body, under the skin, around the various organs, mixed with the fibres of muscles, and in other places.

Dr. Mary S. Rose has listed succinctly the purposes of the fat in the body. It serves as a padding for the organs and for the muscles, protecting them against bumps and blows.

It has advantages as insulation and is a storehouse of energy on which the body can draw in times of famine.

It is well known that animals build up and then draw upon their fat reserves against periods of starvation. In the same way the human being stores in his body any excess of food beyond what may be needed for immediate purposes.

FUEL STORAGE

When the muscles act the fuel storage is called on to take care of the demand. When sugar and starch, the foods that are known as carbohydrates, are taken into the body they are stored first in the liver and in the muscles in the form of a compound called glycogen.

In time of need this glycogen is called on as a fuel supply. However, the capacity of the muscles and the liver for glycogen is definitely limited. When an excess of sugars and

TO BE SOLD TO NAVAL OFFICERS

Ships Bells Which Rang While Battles Roared Among Trophies to Be Preserved

Reuter's Special to The Victoria Times
London (By Mail).—Few ships disappear entirely at the end of their brief careers of life at sea. "The old man," or the owners, the officers or members of the crew who have made many a voyage in even the humblest tramp steamer, preserve a few souvenirs of her. The Admiralty has just circulated an order announcing that about sixty bells from ships which participated in battles during the World War are to be sold to naval officers who desire to acquire them for £9 apiece. No bell will be sold for three months, in order to leave time for applications from officers now serving in distant parts of the world who may desire for personal reasons to possess a certain bell. Bells of several submarines are among those offered; and bells from Renard, Savage and Jackal (partially).

London (By Mail).—Few ships disappear entirely at the end of their brief careers of life at sea. "The old man," or the owners, the officers or members of the crew who have made many a voyage in even the humblest tramp steamer, preserve a few souvenirs of her. The Admiralty has just circulated an order announcing that about sixty bells from ships which participated in battles during the World War are to be sold to naval officers who desire to acquire them for £9 apiece. No bell will be sold for three months, in order to leave time for applications from officers now serving in distant parts of the world who may desire for personal reasons to possess a certain bell. Bells of several submarines are among those offered; and bells from Renard, Savage and Jackal (partially).

have preceded her. Instead of 10,000 tons she will have a displacement of 8,400 tons, and will carry fewer eight-inch guns. The Admiralty Board therefore decided to make a distinction in the names of this "B" class, and they will take the names of cathedral cities. York is the first. The second will be Exeter, now building at Devonport.

Canterbury is a vessel of the "C" class built during the Great War. When our 10,000 "county" cruisers took the water there was comment on their not having been more powerfully engined, their limit of speed being about thirty-one knots. The latest French 10,000 ton cruiser is reported to have averaged thirty-six knots in full power tests, and Italy, which cannot bear a position of naval inferiority to France, has now laid down a cruiser type which is meant to travel at forty knots. The British Admiralty will not attempt to build a similar vessel. While appreciating the advantages of high speed, the Board has decided to sacrifice a few knots to other considerations, among which seaworthiness, gun power, radius of action, and accommodation for the crews are the most important. With our world-wide obligations our cruisers must have great sea-keeping endurance, a quality inevitably weakened in proportion to increased speed, and if Italy and France had Britain's naval obligations in tropical waters they would soon appreciate the necessity of restricting machinery to provide crew space.

CIVIC BUILDING MAY BE ERECTED

Vancouver City Council Approves Tentative Plan For Administration Offices

Vancouver, Aug. 9.—Proposals that a temporary civic office building be erected at Pender and Main Streets, immediately adjacent to the City Hall, were tentatively approved by the Vancouver City Council at a special meeting this forenoon.

It is proposed the building be three stories high. It would cost approximately $125,000. This proposal was rejected by the ratepayers some time ago. Because of this, City Comptroller A. J. Pilkington has been instructed to report on the council's power to appropriate funds to construct the block.

City Architect A. J. Bird has been instructed to prepare an estimate of the cost.

NEW LIGHT ON SOLOMON'S LIFE

U.S. Archaeologists Excavate Stables of Ancient King at Armageddon

Chicago, Aug. 9.—Evidence that King Solomon's stables were located at the site of Armageddon, as stated in the Bible, is now uncovered for the eyes of archaeologists.

P. L. O. Guy, field director of an expedition of the University of Chicago, has reported the discovery of the famous stables of Solomon at Armageddon.

The 1,000-year-old stables cover half an acre on the townsite of the ancient battle site north of Jerusalem.

Mr. Guy reports: "Having excavated down through several of the uppermost strata containing scattered and unrelated buildings, the clearance of a level which is disclosing a well laid out town, with streets and groups of buildings."

Dr. James Henry Breasted, director of the Oriental Institute of the University of Chicago, has long been eagerly awaiting the discovery of the stables.

"Such a discovery will be of the greatest importance to the study of the life of the ancient world," he said.

"Few people are aware that Solomon was not only an Oriental sovereign, but likewise a successful merchant. Not the least of his activities was his enterprise as a horse dealer."

PREMIER TOURS PRAIRIE AREA

given in his honor in the city of Prince Albert, motored seventy miles to address a large open-air gathering of his constituents at Shell Brook, where he was the guest of honor and speaker at a garden party, and returned to Prince Albert late in the evening.

During his travels he spent a brief time at a baseball game at the little town of Parkside. The game was called and Mr. King mounted a convenient bench and spoke for a few minutes.

SPoke OF PEACE WORK

The Prime Minister's audience at Blaine Lake was a cosmopolitan one. Ruthenians, Galicians, Czechoslovaks, Poles, and others, gathered to hear him speak.

From some of his Dookhobour constituents, of whom there are 1,200, he received a book entitled "Christ and War," and, addressing his audience, the premier spoke of peace. He told of his efforts in the direction of conciliation when he was associated with the Federal Department of Labor many years ago. Out of this spirit, he said, had grown his interest in the League of Nations, whose sessions in Geneva he would shortly attend as one of Canada's representatives.

Mr. King's visit to his constituency thus far has been in the nature of a "get-together" with his constituents. He is seizing this opportunity to thank them for the support they have given him.

JOHN DEAN WARNS CITY CLERK OF STORM IN OFFING

Objecting to being required to call at the City Hall to obtain a copy of the city's annual report, John Dean this morning verbally informed City Clerk M. F. Hunter: "I am going to raise a row about this. Every ratepayer should receive a copy through the mails. This is no way to run a $3,000,000 business. I get a report from every commercial concern in which I hold stock."

Four hundred copies of the annual report for 1927 were printed, at a cost to the city of $425. Most of the copies are supplied to eastern financial houses, bond dealers and libraries. The city has 9,000 ratepayers.

FAIL TO MAKE INCOME RETURNS; MUST PAY FINES

Several summonses have been issued in the city lately following failure of residents to make Federal income tax returns. One conviction was secured in city police court this morning, the defendant paying a fine of $25 and $2.50 costs.

FRUIT OUTPUT AHEAD OF 1927

Vernon Farmers Have Filled 250 Cars to Date; Complaint of Prices

Vernon, Aug. 9.—Though the movement of fruit and vegetables does not to many an anxious orchardist appear at all rushing, the Associated Growers announce that to August 8 they had shipped 250 cars while in similar date in 1927 they had only shipped 160.

Orchardists are complaining of the low prices set by the Committee of Direction. The committee claims the low prices are necessary to move the crop, but some shipping agencies point out that many mixed cars are sold to country points and the small difference in price makes no difference to the growers is not a factor when the quantities to be ordered in the cars are being determined.

Though no release date has been set by the Committee of Direction, it is said some of the wealthies will be ready in ten days. Sun scald is showing up on the apples, with great difference of opinion as to the amount of damage it will cause.

G. A. Barrat, the Associated representative to the Old Country, will leave Saturday and will not return until after the new year.

FRENCH PRAISE PRINCE OF WALES

Tributes in Newspapers; He Joined in Memorial Events on Battlefields

Paris, Aug. 9 (Canadian Press Cable via Reuters).—The French have found a hero to worship in the Prince of Wales, who spent the early part of this week in the battlefields of the world war.

The manner in which the popular imagination was struck by the Prince's visit to the battlefields is reflected in the columns of anecdotes and tributes published in the Paris newspapers, which describe him as possessing his grandfather's "kindness of heart."

They appear particularly impressed by his "youthful figure, in a grey flannel suit without a waistcoat, walking among the crowds at reception, and addressing a few easy words to often embarrassed local dignitaries."

The religious solemnity of the great parade after the memorial service at Ypres yesterday is also appreciated in Paris, even the non-clerical Des Debats publishing the service fully.

The smoothness of the arrangements for transportation and feeding the great pilgrimage finally are hailed as a triumph for British organization.

HICKMAN TO DIE ON OCTOBER 19

Los Angeles, Aug. 9.—William E. Hickman, to-day was ordered hanged at San Quentin penitentiary on October 19 for the slaying of Marion Parker. Judge Douglas Edwards overruled defence objections before setting the second hanging date for the youthful kidnapper, who slew the 16-year-old school girl here last December.

EDUCATION TREND IS REVIEWED

V. L. Denton Compares Past and Present Teaching Methods

Remarking that the average citizen pays more attention to the educational matters when the yearly tax bills are received, Prof. V. L. Denton this afternoon presented to the Rotary Club, at the Empress Hotel, a review of the achievements and objectives of modern educationists.

He believed that in the years to come education will be heavier, and hoped that the accounts would be paid cheerfully. "We teachers have to deliver the goods," he pointed out, "marking that the educational facilities of the world to-day developed from ideas unknown a century ago."

The people of Western Canada thirty years ago set as example by demanding the best of educational facilities, and cheerfully paying the cost.

Education to-day is better and more general than ever. Illiteracy in British Columbia is rare, but it costs more to achieve such results, Prof. Denton pointed out.

MUST KEEP PACE

Modern life is complex and education must suit itself to that condition. "A strong nation is a well-trained nation, and the teaching world realizes that it must keep abreast of the times."

"There has never been a time when there has been such a ferment in educational inquiry," he said.

NEW VIEWPOINT

"A new conception of history, such as our ancestors never had, is now prevalent. People are realizing that the record of the past should show more than the personal careers of kings and rulers. It should reflect the life of the people. As now taught history shows the growth of human society from the simple to the complex."

"If we cannot get our young people to know the past we are going to have a dangerous situation with us in the next thirty years."

"Our boys and girls ought to appreciate the conditions under which they live to-day, compared to the conditions of the past, when the people dwelt in walled cities for safety."

ECONOMIC FACTS

Prof. Denton discussed the accumulation of capital, the development of better food reserves, better breeds of animals, and other economic aspects of history, now being stressed in the schools.

"Our civilization is not yet perfect; let us try to make it better. Our children in British Columbia is the heir of the ages, but he has a duty to make our land a better place for those coming on. That is the teaching of modern history," he said.

LIBRARIES NEEDED

The influence of library facilities, public and in the schools, was of importance, and in the next five years the matter must be dealt with, he said.

BASIC FACTORS

The winning of North America by the white man was due to use of iron, the Red Indians having attained the highest stage possible to stone age man. The white man gained greatly from the Indians by adoption of corn and potatoes and modern history gives credit to the Red Indians for such contributions to man's progress.

Such facts are being stressed in modern methods of instruction, children responding with great effect. Books on such matters as history, science, and geography are being used, but unfortunately, teachers being unable to personally present the vast array of facts now available.

"The teachers to-day are awake, alive, and I think deserve your support in the work they are trying to do. You have provided good schools, but there is a little hole you have left unplugged. There are not good libraries in the schools," he considered.

The new education is getting the child in a frame of mind where he wants to know things, and will use his own time to find out," said Mr. Denton, telling of enthusiastic youngsters who even invaded the office of the late Premier Oliver in search of information. He contrasted this condition with the methods of thirty years ago when the children only tried to learn while in the school-room.

Ted Roy of Oregon, second prize winner in the nationwide Atwater Kent radio additions of last winter, introduced by Clifford Denham, rendered a group of tenor solos, being accompanied by Chris Wade.

STOCK MARKETS - FINANCIAL NEWS - GRAIN MARKETS

TO-DAY'S GRAIN MARKETS

By Branson, Brown & Co. Ltd.
Winnipeg, Aug. 9.—The wheat market was firm to-day with prices mostly about 1c higher, but actually gave a poor response to the strength in cables and to the sharp upturn in Chicago. Trade was of the highest, but the character, with the buying anything but good. There was a little scattered short covering going on at times, but the pool was said to be selling sufficient wheat to fill up this demand. Based on the short covering, due to the United States Government report coming out this evening, which will estimate the winter wheat crop and give the indicated yield of spring wheat, corn, oats, barley and other commodities. The Canadian Government report is due on Saturday, and will give the first estimate of the crop. The weather in Western Canada has continued dry with temperatures rather high, being over 90 at several points. Broomeham estimates that the world's surplus of wheat this season will be 15,000,000 bushels more than last season with import requirements only 27,000,000 bushels more. This is considered a surplus of 12,300,000 bushels. The trend of the market will be largely influenced by the character of the two government reports, but we believe bulges will be very difficult to hold.

Coarse grains.—There was a little domestic business in oats, while New York interests were taking October barley and rye, but business was quite small. The cash demand was very quiet for all grains, and spreads on barley declined 2c. Oats futures closed 1/4c to 1/2c higher, barley 1/4c to 1/2c higher, and rye 1/4c higher.

Flax continues to fall with further clearing liquidation going on and the demand poor. Closing prices about 1c lower.

Synopsis by Brunette.

GREEK BATTLES

The Greeks evidently had two types of vessels—warships and commercial craft. The warship was long and narrow with three tiers of oars. Sometimes there were as many as 170 oarsmen in a vessel and the sail was used very little. These vessels used their beaks as rams to destroy the enemy. One of the Greek warships is pictured here.

By HBA, Through Special Permission of the Publishers of The Book of Knowledge, Copyright, 1923-24.

Greek commercial ships were double-ended and flat-bottomed and depended upon large square sails rather than oars.

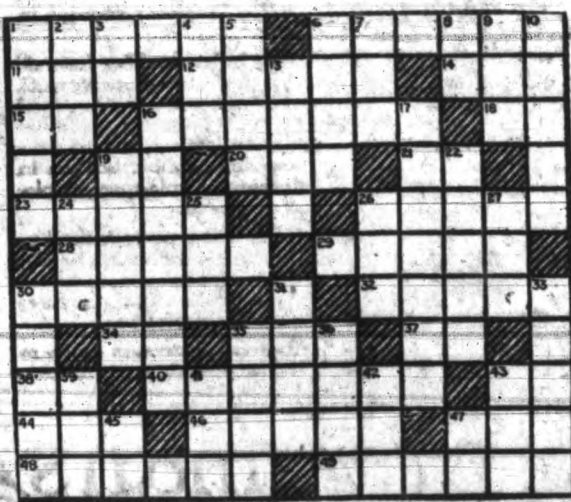

The Greeks became powerful at sea, but their control was threatened by Xerxes, the Persian, whose ambitions led him into conflict with them.

Xerxes, at the head of 1200 ships, led an attack against the Greeks. The Greeks had only 378 triremes, but defeated the Persians through their greater knowledge of seafaring and skill in handling their craft. The Greeks knew how to tack, that is sail against the wind, and could navigate such strong tides as those of the Dardanelles.

Solution of Yesterday's Puzzle

To-morrow's Horoscope

FRIDAY, AUGUST 10, 1928

Good and evil planetary influences are read in the horoscope for this day by astrologers who find that benefic aspects are slightly dominant.

It is a day when the mind should be clear and the perceptions acute. It should be a favorable time for making important decisions. One of the drawbacks to the sharpened wits of this rule of the stars is likely to be a tendency to recognize faults and weaknesses among associates or among members of one's family.

There is a promising sign for aviation which is to attain new popularity before winter adds to the difficulties of air flights. This is a mildly auspicious day for business and brokers should be especially careful. Again a sinister aspect appears to govern agriculturists, but it may be merely a warning against severe autumn storms.

Industry may be affected by unexpected demands for products that bring added prosperity. Persons whose birthdate it is may have a year of prosperity which they hinder by anxiety and fear. These subjects of Leo should remember that they have the Sun for their governing planet. Children born on this day will probably have successful careers, but they will do best alone, and should avoid partnerships. They may be intense in nature and inclined to have too many love affairs in their lives. (Copyright, 1928)

ICE PROHIBITS SHIP LANDING

Beothic Fails to Find Approach Through Ice to Post on Bache Peninsula

Ottawa, Aug. 8.—Four days of battering the great ice fields lodged in Flager and Buchanan Bays failed to provide an opening for the approach of the steamer Beothic and the Canadian Arctic Expedition to the post of Bache Peninsula on Ellesmere Island.

An ice pack heavier and greater in extent than any other encountered on any previous voyage cut off all the approaches by water to that farthest north post and as a result the expedition was forced to abandon its attempt to reach the detachment and landed supplies and provisions at Framham, at the southeastern entrance to Buchanan Bay.

Word of the encounter with the heavy ice in and around Buchanan Bay was contained in wireless dispatches received by the Department of the Interior here to-day. Members of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police detachment of Bache Peninsula, who have traveled across from the post to Rice Strait took charge of the supplies when it was found necessary to unload at Framham, and with the aid of sledges and dogteams they will transport the materials to the post.

After performing that duty the steamer Beothic was headed southward in Smith Sound. Five miles from Cape Sabine the ship again ran into very heavy ice and further progress seemed impossible. However, after a hard fight the vessel cleared the ice pack at noon of August 7. Two Eskimo families from Dundas Harbor were landed at North Settlement, on the coast of Greenland about fifty miles south of Bache. These natives had been replaced by those brought north from Pond Inlet.

From that point the ship will continue southward to Dundas Harbor on Devon Island.

KING RETURNS AFTER AIDING BEACHED YACHT

After being absent from Victoria for nearly a month the Pacific Salvage Company's steamer Salvage King returned to her berth on the Inner Harbor last evening at 9 o'clock. The ship left Victoria on July 15 for Wrangell Narrows where the pleasure craft Oaxaca ran on the rocks on Friday, July 15, with G. Allan Hancock, millionaire owner, and a party of fifteen Los Angeles residents aboard. The King rushed into the disabled ship, nearly on thousands of miles away, with all possible speed but the state of the tides prevented her from reaching the ship until last Thursday. She then took the Oaxaca in tow and arrived in Vancouver yesterday morning at 6 o'clock. A. O. Burdick, managing director of the company, who went over to Vancouver to meet the King, returned to Victoria last evening.

WILL ARRIVE FROM ORIENT ON MONDAY

SS. PRESIDENT GRANT

of the American Mail Line, which will dock at the Rithet Piers here early Monday morning from China, Japan and the Philippines with 200 tons of general cargo for this port and a number of steerage passengers. For Seattle the liner has 1,000 tons of cargo, including 3,500 bales of raw silk, 200 cases of made-up silk goods and 2,000 bags of mail, about half of which will be left off here. Captain Michael Jensen on the bridge, the big liner left Yokohama, her last port of call in the Orient, on August 2. She will dock at the Rithet Piers about 7 o'clock.

Outbound for the Orient and the Philippines, the President McKinley, Captain Carey, will sail from this port on Saturday at 6 p.m. The vessel will arrive here at 4 o'clock from Seattle and, after picking up local passengers, cargo and mail, will put to sea en route to Yokohama.

VETERAN CONDUCTOR KILLED

Winnipeg, Aug. 8.—Casper C. Cushman, sixty-year-old veteran conductor of the Canadian Pacific Railways, was fatally injured at Stony Mountain, Man., yesterday when he fell under a freight engine. He died in hospital here last night. The moving engine caught him by the legs and dragged the body for some distance. Mr. Cushman had been in the service of the C.P.R. as a conductor for thirty-five years.

CITY OF VICTORIA RETURNS TO DUTY AFTER DRYDOCKING

After having one of her propeller blades replaced in a Seattle drydock, the Edmonds-Victoria Ferry Company's steamer City of Victoria resumed her usual run this morning, taking the trip from Edmonds at 8 o'clock and arriving here on schedule at 12:30. The ship lost one of her blades while proceeding from Victoria to Edmonds yesterday afternoon and immediately after disembarking her big list of passengers at Edmonds left for Seattle, where the necessary repairs were effected during the night.

RUSH FOR BOAT ENDS IN CRASH; DRIVER FINED

Rushing through the heart of the city to make boat connections doesn't always pay, S. W. Osborn, taxi-driver, discovered to his cost when he appeared in City Police Court to-day to face a charge of driving to the common danger. Osborn, who was in collision with a New Method Laundry truck at the corner of Courtney and Government Streets on Monday afternoon, was fined $25 by Magistrate Jay, Captain Reburn, Union Club, gave evidence to show that Osborn was proceeding at a fast rate of speed down Government Street, just before the accident. Constable Henry Jarvis described the collision as shown by marks upon the pavement.

In reports of the accident it was stated that Osborn was in a hurry to catch the 4:30 p.m. boat for Seattle, the result of the accident being a 4:35 p.m. boat. The rear of the laundry truck was slightly damaged in the crash.

Magistrate Jay made pointed comment upon the attempts of reckless drivers to stall their fines when Osborn asked for a few days in which to pay his penalty.

TWO SHIPS IN FROM EUROPE

Noorderdyk and Modavia Dock From European Ports; Cargoes For Victoria

Two freight and passenger liners were in port at Victoria to-day from Britain and European ports. Both had cargoes for discharge at Victoria, before proceeding to Vancouver.

The first ship was the Holland-America liner Noorderdyk, which arrived at the William Head quarantine station at 10:30 a.m. and berthed at the Rithet piers an hour later. She had 700 tons of general European cargo on board when she arrived here, 100 tons of which were left off at Victoria. The ship will load about fifty tons of plank and lathing for Germany before she sails for the mainland about 10 o'clock this evening.

DELIGHTFUL TRIP

The Noorderdyk carried no passengers from Europe, but at Los Angeles she picked up six people, who brought along their automobile and will return South over the Pacific Highway. All reported a delightful trip up the Coast with no rough weather. The liner left Rotterdam on June 23 and made calls at London, Panama Canal ports and San Francisco. Capt. A. Filippo was in command.

The second ship from the United Kingdom was the Donaldson liner Modavia, which arrived at the quarantine station at noon and tied up at the Rithet piers at 12:30 o'clock. She had 110 tons of general cargo for discharge here. She will get away to Vancouver about midnight, after loading cargo for Glasgow and Liverpool. Neither ship will make calls at Victoria on the outward voyage.

HUDSON STRAIT AVIATORS WILL RETURN SOUTH

Ottawa, Aug. 8.—Aviators attached to the Hudson Strait expedition have completed their work of making weather observations in the channel and will fly back to Ottawa at the end of August. The five planes in charge of Squadron Leader Lawrence, will come down the eastern shores of James Bay to Moose Factory and then follow the natural waterways here.

Daily reports of fog and ice conditions in the Strait have been made by radio to the Department of Marine and Fisheries for the last year from the flying bases at Port Burwell, Wakeham Bay and Nottingham Island. Last Winter was regarded as an average one, and it is believed that future weather conditions may be anticipated from these reports. The channel has been free of ice for some time.
